LEGALLY SANE BUT MORALLY TWISTED IS VERDICT OF ALIENISTS IN FRANKS CASE

EXAMINATIONS SHOW MINDS OF YOUTHS CROOKED

Defense Experts Will Testify Leopold Also Loeb Are "Queer."

Chicago, July 28.—Legally they are sane. Pathologically they are queer. Morally they are twisted. Mentally they are far advanced, but their fine intellects are distorted and crooked.

This, it was revealed today, is the verdict of the defense alienists, the men of science after exhaustive and minute examinations into the lives, characters and habits of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and "Dicky" Loeb, the 19-year-old youths, who kidnaped little Bobby Franks and then bashed his head in with a cold chisel just for the adventurous thrill of the thing.

These conclusions were reached after weeks of prodding and innumerable x-rays of their bodies after scientific analysis of their minds, their emotions, after investigating their glands and their muscles; and after a searching study of their careers that began with the murder of the boy and then went backward to the very cradles in which their distorted intellects began to grow.

The scientists will spread their opinions upon the records of Justice John R. Caverly's court this week in an effort to save the necks of "Babe" and "Dicky."

Their conclusions, many of them weird as the crime itself, will constitute the "mitigating circumstances" of this unusual unnatural murder. It is these mitigating circumstances that Justice Caverly will be asked to consider when making his decision as to whether the dapper young intellectuals shall dance the dance of death at the end of a rope or spend the rest of their unnatural lives behind prison bars for the crime they committed "just for a thrill," just to give their twisted intellects the exercise that could be procured in no other way.

Loeb was the "master mind," according to the alienists. The girls used to call him "Angel Face Dicky." Behind the angelic mask, the scientists claim lies an intellect as fully developed and as moral being as twisted and terrible as that of "Mr. Hyde" or "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," or "Svengali," or any other fictional villain.

Leopold, the sleek looking accomplice, who knows the Lord's Prayer in fifteen different languages and who translates Sanskrit and Arabic as easily as he does French, was Dick's "slave."

"Dicky" led; "Babe" followed. The spiritual genius of "Dicky" conceived the cold chisel murder of innocent little Bobby Franks; the fine, cold intellect of Leopold supplied the practical means of carrying it all out.

The alienists Dr. Carl Murdock Bowman of Boston, and Dr. H. S. Hubert, of Chicago, say all this. They base it on their study of the boys and they say it in a report that is longer than any full length novel, thousands of words devoted to the analysis of their innermost subconscious being.

Taken as a whole the report of the psychiatrists, constitutes perhaps the most amazing, weird and fantastic record of psychological and pathological analysis ever laid before an American court of law.

Its correctness and its shortcomings will be weighed by a judge who has dealt with thousands of criminals, from shoplifters to murderers, from street walkers to kidnapers, a stolid, somewhat phlegmatic judge who has listened to the most absorbing tale in the annals of American crime without his face once giving expression to what is going on behind his thick lensed spectacles.

Both boys have a record of crime, the alienists found, that goes back to their knee pants days. When they were little fellows they stole their playmates' things, they broke windows and they were cruel to other children.

When they passed from their short pants to long pants, they studied tales of crime. They were always looking for thrills.

As they grew older and as their naturally fine minds began to flower, they became absorbed in the literature of their crime. They often planned the "perfect crime." They were impressed by the fact that very few "perfect crimes" had ever been committed.

Always the criminals left some trace, made some mistake, forgot something that turned them up in the end. One of the few "perfect crimes" in their lexicon was the kidnapping of Charley Ross. That is still an unsolved mystery. And both Leopold and Loeb had this in mind when they kidnaped little Bobby Franks and later hammered his skull in with a tape wrapped cold chisel. The alienists believe that any way.

Had not Leopold the "slave" lost his glasses near the culvert into which they stuffed Bobby's naked little body, they might have gotten away with another "perfect crime" but the glasses dropped unnoticed from his pocket, they were found and consequently the bungling of Leopold, the "mental slave" of Loeb, the "master," was responsible for the capture.

Senator Lodge Improving After Serious Operation

Boston, July 27.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, one of the best known men in American public life, is in a serious condition in the Charles Gate Hospital, following an emergency operation for bladder trouble.

To inquiries at nine o'clock concerning Lodge's condition, Dr. Cunningham replied:

"Nothing much can be told for another 24 or 48 hours. He is in a serious condition."

Senator Lodge is 74 years old and the attending physicians feared that his advanced age might retard recovery.

Ever since his return from Washington a fortnight ago, Senator Lodge has been in precarious health and has been under the care of Dr. Frederick Winslow, of Boston. He suffered a relapse Sunday and Dr. Cunningham was called.

Dr. Cunningham, after examining the patient, decided that a quick operation was necessary. The senator was in great pain and cheerfully consented to immediate removal to the hospital, which is a private institution.

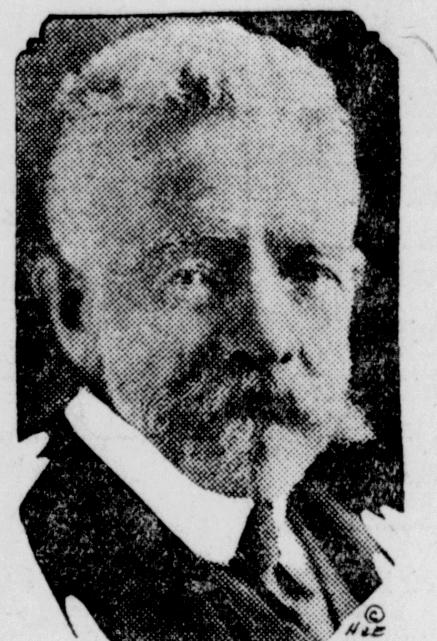

After recovering from the effects of the anaesthetic, Senator Lodge appeared cheerful. A bulletin issued just before midnight said that the senator's condition was "satisfactory."

Later in the forenoon, attending physicians were quite optimistic.

Lodge ate a good breakfast, including two eggs on toast, and coffee, which he followed with a cigar. Physicians said they expected to operate on Lodge again in about two weeks.

Senator Lodge's general physical condition has been good for years, and

COMPETITION CAUSE OF FEWER EXPORTS

Washington, July 28.—Competition from other countries, rather than a reduction in consumption, is given by the department of agriculture as the explanation of the decline during the last few years in exports of American farm products to Great Britain.

Once the chief source of supply of the United Kingdom for cotton, meats, wheat and tobacco, says a department analysis of the situation, the United States now retains supremacy in that market only with tobacco, lard and hams. American agricultural exports to the kingdom were less in volume and value in 1923 than in 1913, and improved economic conditions there are expected to increase the demand for staple products from other countries rather than the United States, the statement adds, unless American producers underbid their competitors or improve the quality of their offerings.

LOAN OFFICIALS ARE INDICTED

Cleveland, July 28.—Eleven indictments charging embezzlement, perjury, misapplication of monies, and making false reports, were returned by a special grand jury against seven officials and directors of the Municipal Loan Representative Realty Interlocking Companies here Saturday.

Those indicted were: Sol Peskind, alleged "master mind," Ben Karp, one of his chief aids; M. A. Vinson; T. W. Hutchcroft; E. K. Fisher; Fred D. Baker and Harry Peris.

The indictments are the result of a $300,000 crash of a number of home building companies which were members of the Municipal Loan Representative Realty Company.

The company, now defunct, according to special prosecutors, who handled the indictments cannot pay over $25 on the dollar.

JAPANESE PASS NEW TARIFF LAW

Washington, July 28.—The department of state has been notified by the American charge d'affaires at Tokyo that the Japanese government had passed a new foreign tariff law, providing for a levy of a uniform duty of 100 per cent ad valorem on luxuries such as shoes, toilet articles, phonographs and other supplies.

THREE KILLED WHEN BOILER OF THRASHING ENGINE EXPLODES

Lima, Ohio, July 28.—Three farmers, one the father of seven children, were almost instantly killed today when the boiler of a thrashing engine in the wheat fields of the Donevon farm, a quarter of a mile north of Cairo, near here, exploded.

FIVE INJURED AND ONE MAY DIE AFTER AUTOMOBILE SKIDS

Newark, O., July 28.—An automobile running at high speed on the Buckeye Lake road, west of here Sunday evening, skidded off the road and jammed head on into a concrete bridge, throwing the five occupants into a ravine. Gordon Matthews is perhaps fatally injured, he being badly cut and bruised and his back and neck seriously injured.

Ralph Wertz sustained a concussion and numerous cuts. Both are unconscious. Paul Wertz, aged 60, is thought to be seriously injured and Mrs. Matthews sustained numerous cuts and bruises. All live at 142 East Seventh avenue, Columbus. Edward Nevitts, 583 1-2 North High Street, Columbus, also in the party, sustained numerous cuts and bruises.

HEALTH EXHIBITS TO BE INCREASED

Columbus, July 28.—The Ohio state fair and many county fairs will feature health exhibits this fall, through co-operation of county and city health departments with the Ohio department of health. In each of the counties the county fair board has given material help. The state fair display will be conducted wholly by the state department of health, with the co-operation of the state department of agriculture, including special features by the bureau of animal industry, and the adjunct general department.

This year's state fair exhibit will be larger and more comprehensive than that of a year ago, and the county fair program will be an amplification of the work begun last year. Moving pictures, lectures and free literature will be interesting features.

U. S. CONSULATE HIT BY BULLETS

Washington, July 28.—The American consulate at Sao Paulo has been struck by bullets in the battle between Brazilian rebels and government forces, it has been announced by the state department following receipt of official advices from Brazil.

The shells damaged the consulate building but no American lives were lost.

ENGINEER DIES AT THROTTLE AS TRAIN WRECKED

Sixteen Injured When Coaches Fall Through Burning Bridge

Canton, O., July 28.—One person was killed and fifteen others injured when passenger train No. 7 on the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad dropped through a burning bridge near Beach City, this county.

The dead: Harry Johnson, engineer, Canton. Injured: Roy West, fireman, and William McDonald, conductor, both of Zanesville, and the following passengers: Orva Slarss, Edgar Camps, George Reed, Ed Boyd, Edwin Wyler and J. S. Moore, all of Fresno; R. L. Daugherty, J. R. Miller, Grover Huss, A. L. Norman, J. A. Mapes and Charles Stuart, all of Coshocton; H. MacPherson, Laura M. Hartley of Canton. Slarss and Stuart suffered internal injuries.

Survivors said the engine, baggage car, smoker, and day coach fell 25 feet with the collapsed bridge into Sugar creek and were destroyed by fire. The parlor car remained on the track. The train carried about 90 passengers, most of whom escaped with minor injuries.

It is stated that the engineer did not see the burning bridge until it was too late to stop the train because of a curve just before the track goes over the bridge. Johnson stuck to his train. Fireman West jumped or was thrown from the engine. The engine got across the bridge before it collapsed, but was pulled back and fell into the creek with the three cars. Ambulances and physicians were sent from Beach City and a relief train, ambulances and physicians from Wooster, division headquarters of the railroad.

Men in the coaches seized fire axes, broke windows and chopped out window frames, so the passengers could get out of the burning cars, which were thrown on the bank, clear of the eight feet of water in the stream. Fireman West sustained a broken ankle and internal injuries. Conductor McDonald's injuries were said to be slight.

FLYERS MAKE FINAL PLANS FOR FLIGHT ACROSS ATLANTIC

Brough, England, July 28.—The United States round the world flyers, under command of Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, made their final arrangements today for the trans-Atlantic hop off of their epochal flight.

Floats which had been fitted to the three Yankee planes were tested out in the estuary of the Humber river.

Lieutenant Smith and his five companions are chafing at the delay and are anxious to get started on the leg of their historic flight which will take them back to the American continent.

The airmen, up to noon, had not received word from Admiral Magruder U. S. N., that the supplies and safety ships were all in their appointed Stations. The aviators are under orders not to start until Admiral Magruder sends this information.

It was hoped that the admiral would notify the aviators that "he sets are all in place by Wednesday. If the weather is favorable, the aviators expect to start for Kirkwall at dawn Wednesday."

CONTEST FOR FAIR QUEEN NEXT WEEK

Columbus, July 28.—Charles V. Truax, Ohio director of agriculture, announced a statewide popularity contest for selection of an "Ohio State Fair Queen." Competition is to begin Aug. 4 and be concluded Aug. 20. Coronation of the "queen" will be one of the interesting events of state fair week. The winner will be brought to Columbus as guest of the state fair and will have a leading part in each day's program of events. She will be presented with a Rollin coupe as a capital prize, the gift of the fair management and the company manufacturing this car. The leading role in "Queen Fashion," the pageant spectacle, will be assigned to her; she will assist Governor Donahey in awarding the governor's cup at the races; will be the guest of the executive at the horse show, and will be royally entertained throughout the week.

Boy Drowns in River.

Gallipolis, O., July 28.—Halley H. McCoy, 14, son of S. A. McCoy, prominent farmer, was drowned in the river near this city while bathing. The body was recovered.

Struck by Automobile.

Cincinnati, July 28.—Philip Daugherty, 35, a radio worker, lost his life here. A friend motioned to him to get in his machine, and when Daugherty started across the street he was struck by another car and killed.

AMERICAN DIPLOMATS MAY BE WITHDRAWN AS RESULT OF SITUATION

State Department Demands Protection of Nationals and Official Representatives Or Break In Relations Will Follow

Washington, July 28.—Withdrawal of American diplomatic representatives from Persia unless that government makes adequate and prompt reparations because of the killing of Vice Consul Imbrie at Teheran was threatened today by the United States government in one of the most blunt and outspoken notes that has ever been issued by the state department.

The maintenance of diplomatic relations between Persia and the United States, said the American note, are dependent upon the according of adequate protection to their respective nationals and to their official representatives.

The note was handed to the Persian authorities at Teheran by Joseph Saul Kornfeld, the American minister and consul Imbrie's immediate superior.

Payments of reparations to Mrs. Imbrie, widow of the vice consul and the paying of the expenses of sending a

United States battleship to Persia to bring Imbrie's body back to this country for burial were demanded of the Persian government in the note.

State department officials declined to discuss the Persian situation, in addition to making public the note to the Persian government. It was indicated however that the situation was considered to be so grave and important in its bearing upon future events, that President Coolidge would not hesitate a moment in withdrawing recognition from Persia and recalling Minister Kornfeld.

One of the battleships now in European or Asiatic waters will be sent to Persia to bring back Major Imbrie's body. The presence of this vessel in Persian waters, it was pointed out, will serve to make it clear to the Persian authorities that this government is prepared to go to any limit to enforce its demands on Persia and to assure itself that there will be no repetition of the events leading up to the assassination of the vice consul, the injury of a member of his party, and subsequent insults to his widow.

INDEPENDENTS LACK FUNDS FOR FALL CAMPAIGN

Finance Committee Named To Solicit Money For Drive.

Washington, July 23.—A finance committee has been appointed by the managers of the La Follette-Wheeler campaign.

Attorney General Herman Ekern of Wisconsin received the appointment as director of the financial campaign insofar as it relates to the general public. William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, was designated to direct the campaign for contributions from labor and other organizations. W. T. Rawleigh, a Freeport (Ill.) manufacturer, was appointed treasurer of the public fund, with headquarters in Chicago, and Warren S. Stone, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, treasurer of funds collected from labor and farm organizations. Mr. Ekern issued the following statement:

"This will be a cash and carry campaign, conducted strictly on the plan of raising the money to pay as you go. The independent candidacy of La Follette for president and Wheeler for vice president has the immediate extra burden of placing their electors on the ballot and securing organizations in the different states. This work is handicapped for lack of funds. The immediate need for money is urgent. Prompt remittances to Treasurer W. T. Rawleigh, Morrison hotel, Chicago, will be welcomed. A hundred dollars now will be worth $1,000 later in the campaign. The exaggerated statements recently carried in the press regarding the amount of money to be raised do not help pay any bills."

The La Follette campaign committee denied that an official blacklist of congressmen had been prepared. In a statement the committee said that while it had been given full authority to pass upon the endorsement of candidates for congressional, state and local offices, "no action has been taken with regard to any such candidates." "Action will not be taken by the committee," the statement concluded, "until a thorough study has been made of the official records of the candidates in the respective states."

Democratic leaders here say that John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, during the coming campaign, will be largely in the saddle, and that his personal base of operations will be his home at Locust Valley, N. Y. Under present plans, Mr. Davis will remain in New York until Aug. 9, arriving in Clarksburg, W. Va., on Sunday, the day before the delivery of his acceptance address. He will leave there probably on the day after the notification ceremonies, returning to New York before starting on his first campaign tour. The working out of routes of the tours into the various sections and the selection of cities and dates for the set addresses will be taken under consideration after the return of the candidate to New York this week.

TORNADO RELIEF FUND SWELLED

Columbus, July 28.—According to State Chairman Fred A. Miller, rural communities are responding generously to the appeal for the $600,000 fund for the northern Ohio tornado relief. Especially progressive is the work that has been carried on under State Grange Master Harry A. Caton through his county deputies of local granges; under L. B. Palmer, state president of the farm bureau, through local farm bureau representatives; and also through the local county agents under H. C. Ramsower, director of the agricultural extension at Ohio State university. Enthusiasm is reported running high in the mining district, and Nelsonville, Athens, Logan, Laurelville and Glouster, although experiencing dull times in coal production, have oversubscribed their quotas and are still remitting funds. Numerous local miners' unions have made special appropriations.

HORSE IS VICTIM OF FREIGHT TRAIN

A horse belonging to the Stiles Coal Company at Detroit and Hill Streets, was killed by a Baltimore and Ohio freight train, sometime Sunday night.

It is thought the horse wandered from the pasture adjacent to the coal office onto the track by the way found along the track by the driver when a search for the horse was started Monday morning.

BRITISH FLIER'S WIFE GREETS AMERICANS.

Mrs. Stuart MacLaren, wife of the British 'round-the-world flier, is shown greeting Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, U. S. A. Air Service, when the commander of the American 'round-the-world flight reached London, where she thanked him for rushing a spare motor to her husband when he was forced down in Asia. Major MacLaren was missing at the time of the arrival in London, and Lieutenant Smith reassured Mrs. MacLaren about her husband's safety. Major MacLaren was found later, alive and well.

GERMANY INVITED TO TAKE PART IN ALLIED MEETING

London, July 28.—Plans for evacuation of all occupied German territory including the Ruhr, were discussed today by the delegates to the interallied reparations conference.

Heads of the various delegations met at noon, preliminary to the plenary session later in the day and made progress towards important decisions which may decide the fate of the parley.

The first committee met to draft an amended report, which it was understood, makes concessions to the international banking group regarding guarantees for the proposed $200,000,000 German loan.

A new American proposal which Thomas Lamont was said to believe acceptable in overcoming the opposition of the international banking group was considered by the first committee.

London, July 28.—As the delegates gathered this afternoon for a plenary session of the interallied reparations conference, it was strongly reported that an invitation would be extended to the Germans to enter the parly, upon a basis of equality.

At the same time, it was understood that the chances were much better for satisfying the international bankers as to guarantees for loan.

Intimation had been given in Prisoner Loses Life.

Columbus, July 28.—Ralph Fritsch, 22, Cincinnati, serving a sentence of from 15 to 20 years for shooting with intent to kill, in connection with an attempted holdup of the Sharonville bank in February, 1923, was killed when he attempted to escape from the Ohio penitentiary. He was knocked from the east wall 40 feet to the ground, after coming in contact with high tension wires. He suffered burns and a fractured left arm, dying from the fall and the electric shock.

TWO GIVEN FINES

Charles Chance, 33, and Lewis Lambert, 35 of the Columbus drunk, pleaded guilty to charges of drunk and disorderly when arraigned in Police Court Monday morning and were fined $50 and $25 and costs respectively by Judge E. D. Smith. They were arrested Sunday evening by Patrolman Simms.

FORMER NAVAL OFFICER POINTS OUT MENACE FROM AIR AND URGES ANTI-PLANE DEFENSE

By Rear Admiral W. F. FULLAM,
(U. S. N. Retired)
(Written For The International News Service.)
(Copyright 1924 by The International News Service.)

Washington, July 28—It is welcome news that the coast artillery corps of the United States army is alive to the immediate need of perfecting a system of anti-aircraft defense for the sea frontiers of the United States as well as the Canal Zone and all our foreign possessions.

The menace from the air is upon us. The situation is critical. During the world war the record of anti-aircraft guns was very disappointing. Aviators paid little attention to gun fire from the ground. Under certain conditions they were forced to fly a little higher but it was generally conceded that the percentage of casualties was almost negligible. It appeared that the attack from the air could only be effectively met by air defense—that is by a superior number of fighting planes ever ready to take the air when cavalry of the skies, in hostile array, approached within fighting range. And it must be admitted that aircraft remain by far the most effective defense against aircraft. Nevertheless we must resort to every conceivable auxiliary method that may assist as a protection from the horrors of huge bombs and especially from the deluge of poison gas that may be rained down in the next war.

The war department has now ready for service seven different types of anti aircraft guns, ranging from the small .50 calibre machine gun to the 4.7 inch cannon. In daylight these guns, if skillfully served, cannot be ignored. At night they will not be so effective.

Preparedness for the defense must not blind us to the growing power of the attack. We must not rely upon the seemingly effective fire of guns against airplanes. Coincident with improvement in the defending gun we learn today that a new telescope sight has been invented that vastly increases the accuracy of the bombing plane. This has been the one weakness in air attack. The sights were crude. The aviator was compelled to train for many weary hours to fly comparatively low to secure a hit.

Naval and military history repeat themselves. Previous to the introduction of telescope sights, naval batteries were ineffective except at short range. It was hit or miss depending on the gun pointer's eye, and personal judgment. The new bombing sight will no doubt increase the aviator's hits in like proportion. The difficulty in getting a suitable sight for an airplane seemed almost insurmountable.

The key to the problem was to establish a fixed vertical line for the mounting of the telescope—a line pointing always toward the earth's center, no matter whether the plane was flying upside down or not. The lay reader would find it difficult, perhaps to understand all the mathematical principles involved. It is sufficient to say that the principle of the pendulum allied to that of the gyroscope has been hatched to the telescope that an ever fixed vertical line has been assured and corrections for altitude and speed for the plane can be easily made so the flying runner is quite as unerring as on board ship.

SHIPYARD OWNER SHOT IN RUM WAR

Pacific Grove, Calif., July 28—Simon Moore, shipyard owner, was shot and probably fatally wounded and two others wounded early today when alleged rum runners were ambushed by officers at the beach near where it is believed plans had been laid for landing a cargo of Canadian whiskey. Moore, according to Pacific Grove officials was shot through the head, Harry Johnson, policeman and a third man said have worn a soldiers uniform in the world war also were wounded.

MAY BOYCOTT UNLESS TRAFFIC CAMPAIGN STOPS

Farmers residing in the neighborhood of Mechanicsburg and who trade in that hamlet are threatening to boycott the town and do their buying from other towns because of the alleged "high handed" campaign of Mayor J. C. Hathaway against violators of traffic rules.

Members of the village council and business men called on the Mayor last Thursday and made an appeal for more "reasonable" enforcement of traffic laws. They were met with the statement by Mayor Hathaway that he would do as he pleased, it is said.

Fourteen men were arrested in the town in one day for violations of the traffic code.

"NO TAIN OF LEGALITY IN MY APPEARANCE IN LONDON," SAYS HUGHES

Englishmen who admired Roosevelt's audacity were first to applaud recently when Secretary of State Hughes, emphasizing that his visit to England was entirely unofficial, opened his address at the Pilgrim's dinner by saying:

"Borrowing the phrase of a famous statesman with respect to a certain international transaction in which he took pride, I may say that there is not the slightest taint of legality in my appearance here tonight."

The Secretary's declaration was greeted with rounds of applause and laughter, and soon the story was going around that the reference was to Roosevelt and his Panama policy. The story told was that President Roosevelt had found all his Cabinet, except one, sympathetic with his Panama policy. Philander Knox alone was unresponsive. When Roosevelt asked the Attorney General for his opinion on the legality of the Washington Government's action in Panama, Mr. Knox is said to have replied: "Mr. President, if I were you I should not have the slightest taint of legality about the whole affair."

BUTLER ANNOUNCES NATION-WIDE CAMPAIGN MINUS USUAL REGIONAL ISSUES

Chairman Butler has announced that the Republican Party would consider all issues as national and would carry them into the North, South, East and West.

The party would not concentrate on any few sections nor attempt to carry any evasion or silence, he said.

F. C. Hicks, former Representative from New York, was named Eastern manager for the campaign.

The Republican presidential campaign will be nationwide in every sense of the term, Chairman Butler, of the National Committee said by way of explanation of the methods to be used in behalf of Coolidge and Dawes.

Mr. Butler asserted there would be no concentration of effort in one or two sections where the Republican ticket was obviously popular with the hope that other parts of the country might be carried by "silence and evasion of issues." He promised vigorous campaign throughout the country—North, East, South and West.

"We have a platform," declared Mr. Butler, "and a presidential ticket that makes it possible to conduct a campaign everywhere in the open, as energetically in one part of the country as in another, and to present our cause with utmost frankness."

CAN'T WORK FOR FOOD IF YOU SMELL OF LIQUOR

Prohibition has its own clearly legible record of increased industrial efficiency in the number of employees who report fit for duty after a week-end or a holiday. The new order of the Ford plant to all its operatives is the most drastic edict of the sort that has been published in the enforcement of the policy of abstinence in business. But dismissal without opportunity for appeal in the case of a workman found with intoxicants upon his person might work a hardship as the sequel to a practical joke or a malicious design of other employees. And the discovery of liquor in the house for which the same penalty is inflicted, might entail an odious system of search and espionage which is likely to be resented as un-American.

POLICE VS GEN. BUTLER IS "THE RUB"

A West Philadelphia saloon is said to have been raided by the police eight times. If these visits were justified and if violations of law were discovered on each occasion, it is a sorry commentary upon law enforcement that such conditions can be allowed to go on. Even allowing for faulty evidence in, say, half of the occasions when this particular saloon was the subject of police attention, it is a fair presumption that it was violating the law. Nowadays what other reason can there be for the existence of a saloon? Soft stuff is a notoriously unprofitable branch of saloon trade; and saloonkeepers do not remain in business for their health. Law enforcement becomes ludicrous if it has no greater effect in requiring respect for the law than is apparent in this case.—Public Ledger.

JUST FOLKS

Edgar A. Guest

AT FORTY-THREE

At forty-three, life seems to me
A blend of truth and mystery;
I've trudged the years of smiles and tears,
Loved, laughed and felt the chill of fears,
Seen hope go down and fortune frown
And learned how trivial is renown;
And what I've kept I'd fling away
For love that came but couldn't stay.

Time was that I with eager eye
Went pleasure seeking far or nigh;
The thing called mirth bestrewn the earth
And only daring deeds had worth;
Then, right or wrong, I must be strong
With fame to beckon me along;
But now I know this isn't so,
In gentler ways the soul must grow.

Some things are cheap which we can keep
But life shall ask us all to weep;
The tears shall fall and one and all
Shall sigh for smiles beyond recall,
And at the grave with courage brave
Shall give to God what they would save
And still believe, although they grieve,
That Heaven has need of those who leave.

I've looked ahead with doubt and dread
To laugh when once the fears had fled;
Of pain and care I've had my share
But never more than I could bear;
And I have learned as roads I've turned
That life's truest riches must be earned;
Fame seems to be worth less to me
And friends, worth more at forty-three.

S.S.S. keeps away Pimples

THERE are thousands of women who wonder why their complexions do not improve in spite of all the face treatments they use. They should not continue to wonder. Eruptions come from blood impurities and a lack of rich blood-cells. S.S.S. is acknowledged to be one of the most powerful, rapid and effective blood cleansers known. S.S.S. builds new blood-cells. This is why S.S.S. roots out of your system the impurities which cause boils, pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash. S.S.S. is a remarkable flesh-builder. That's why underweight people can quickly build up their lost flesh, get back their normal weight, pink, plump cheeks, bright eyes, and "pep."

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

THE TEACHER

The noblest man who ever lived was a Teacher.

He went about "doing good," and setting an example. He didn't tell folks to do this or that, and not to do certain things, but He emphasized how beautiful it was to live aright and showed the world in His own example.

I owe much more to those who did their best to teach me in High School and College for what they were than all that they sought to get into my head from the books they talk about.

The greatest book in the world is a great character.

To my notion the teaching profession is the noblest and most important in the world. To mold a mind to think aright is much greater than to build a bridge or a building or to be elected President of the United States.

I have many clever friends who are earning $50,000 a year. I know of no Teacher who is earning this amount. I will change that statement: there are many who are earning that amount but none who receive it.

If I had my way I would have my country float a huge bond issue and ask the well-fed folks to buy them.

Then I would see that every Teacher in the land was paid deservedly and well. I would like to see Teachers the highest paid servants in the world.

Then we should have a better world in which to live.

I know how tired the Teacher gets. He or she never complains. They sacrifice and give. That is their work of life. They see out of their hearts into the future when all that they have given brings forth ripe harvests of usefulness and happiness. And they keep right on doing their noble work.

God bless the Teachers. I hope that everyone who reads this brief talk will never lose the chance to honor them or to better their lot. They are the salt of the earth.

BELIEVE RETREAT OF REBELS FROM SAO PAULO TO END REVOLT

Rio De Janeiro, July 28—Brazilian rebel forces at Sao Paulo have capitulated, said an official communique issued this afternoon.

Retreat of the rebels from their stronghold at Sao Paulo is believed to be a crushing blow to the revolution. Officials are hopeful that the movement will soon be broken up. The revolutionary movement, it was pointed out, never did involve possession of Sao Paulo state.

The rebels deserted the city during the night and marched towards Campinas a small town about 100 miles west of Sao Paulo, where it was reported, they would take another stand.

Below: JACOB ADLER & SIR EDWARD ELGAR

Mrs. Henry Ford, wife of the automobile manufacturer, is recovering in the Ford Hospital, Detroit, from a serious major abdominal operation. Grand Duke Nicholas, uncle of the late Czar and commander-in-chief of the Russian armies in the World War, now in exile near Paris, asserts that the Soviet regime is tottering and that the "red" army will cease to be "red" when the "hour strikes." Russian monarchists hope to place Nicholas on the throne. Sir Edward Elgar, noted British composer, has been appointed Master of King's Music by King George, succeeding the late Sir Walter Parratt. Jacob Adler, famous Jewish actor, who retired two years ago after 50 years on the stage, returned, at 69 years of age, for one performance of Jacob Gordon's "Stranger." Three of his daughters were in the cast, all the lines being spoken in Yiddish.

SECRET TESTS WITH PHOSPHOROUS BOMBS.

PHOSPHOROUS BOMB. INTL.

This picture, made months ago, has been kept as a closely guarded secret by the U. S. Army Air Service, and has just been released for publication. When the army airmen bombed old ships that were scrapped under the disarmament treaty they used a new and deadly form of bomb—a 1,000 pound missile loaded with phosphorus, with its devastating effects. Nothing could be more illuminating as a text on the value of the airplane during war than this picture, showing a direct hit on the fire control platform of the old battleship. No one could have lived aboard the vessel.

CHAUTAUQUA WEEK END PROGRAMS PLEASE LARGE AUDIENCES-ELSIE BAKER MONDAY

One of the nicest enjoyable entertainments of the Chautauqua course presented this season was that Saturday evening by the DuMond Company and followed by Jane Goude, known in the theatrical world as "The Girl from the West," who gave a series of readings and impersonations.

Joe DuMond is a lyric baritone, possessing a voice of unusual quality showing the fine training he received under the tutelage of the famous concert baritone, Louell Wallis and also L. A. Torrence, both of New York City.

Irene DuMond, pianist and contralto, and Max Noah, basso and cellist, the other members of the trio, received their musical instruction under Josef Shevonne and Wallis and Torrence respectively. Joe DuMond is also a talented accordionist and pianist.

As an illustration of the beauty of the oldtime melodies, they presented to the audience an original playlet typical of an old time love scene entitled "Old Fashioned Days."

Among their selections were "Alah's Holiday," by Freme; "Peasant's Evening Prayer," by Suppe, and an Italian serenade, consisting of a melody of Italian airs.

The moment Jane Goude stepped before her audience, she won their friendship.

Her program was opened by a humorous skit entitled "How do you do," by "Army" Ambrose. This was followed by a playlet in one act entitled the "Florist Shop," by Winifred Hawerage. Next came "Mrs. Puffer's Silver Wedding," featuring the gossip of a washerwoman. "The Grip," by F. P. Dunne, was a funny Irish characterization, while "I'm glad I touched shoulders with you," served as an excellent closing number.

"The Dawn of the New Civilization" was the subject of the stirring address by Waldo E. Stephens Saturday afternoon. The lecture followed a concert by the DuMond Company.

Dr. Thomas E. Green, who spoke Saturday afternoon, on "Guarding the Outposts," is widely known as the man who builds eloquence out of facts and figures. He is an almost constant traveler and in his visits to various corners of the earth has gathered a vast store of unusual information.

His interesting address lay in his power to make facts and figures interesting, adding an unusual power of graphic description and eloquence of speech.

The opening part of the Saturday afternoon program was devoted to the Musical Maids, who delighted the audience.

Half seriously, half playfully, Waldo Stephens told a large Sunday evening Chautauqua audience that the great need of the people today is the world enlightenment. He counseled a thorough study of world-wide political and industrial conditions. In a short characterization of leading nations he portrayed the United States as a "rich young man," England as a conservative business man, France as a "diplomat" in the family of nations, Germany the "scientist," Russia the "common laborer," India the "dreamer," China as the "old philosopher" and Japan as the "young man in the adolescent period." Mr. Stephens said:

"The man of the west looks upon the man of the east as a heathen and a barbarian while on the other hand the eastern man portrays the western man as 'peculiar.' The greatest barrier between an eastern and western understanding is custom.

"There are three tasks confronting the American people—cleaning up our own government, eliminating lawlessness and uniting against various undesirable factions.

"Let us, in order to do this, take a greater part in national politics as the ruling force of our country is public opinion.

Suggestions for the solution of the problem confronting the larger percentage of women, how to be well dressed on a moderate income, were presented in an interesting way by Evelyn Hansen at the Monday morning program. With living models, Miss Hansen illustrated type dressing, clothes for mother, daughter and business women, for sport, afternoon and evening wear.

Her talk was heard by a good-sized audience, composed largely of women who were interested in the subject.

One of the outstanding features of the entire Chautauqua program, the second play to be offered during the week, George M. Cohan's comedy success, "The Meanest Man in the World" was enjoyed by the Monday afternoon audience. A cast of eight Broadway players presented the rollicking comedy.

The unusually good musical programs that have marked the week's program, will be enhanced by the appearance of Miss Elsie Baker, celebrated contralto, Monday evening. Miss Baker has made more than thirty records for the Victor Company. She will have as an associate artist for her program, Grover Tilden Davis, pianist and composer.

The three-fold program Tuesday will complete the week's engagement here. The Duval brothers will give a program of magic, mystery and rag pictures Tuesday morning.

Tuesday afternoon, Vienna's Hawaiians will give a concert, supplemented by a lecture demonstration "Bee Behavior" by Ernest R. Root.

The Hawaiians will present "An Evening in Hawaii" at the Tuesday evening performance, with South Sea scenic and lighting effect.

FINAL CHECK UP IS NOW COMPLETED

A final check-up of the fund raised in Xenia city for tornado relief in northern Ohio, was made Monday morning among the city banks and the final funds sent off.

The fund now totals $1,429.20, 40 per cent more than the quota of $1,000 for the city, and including the $1,200 sent to tornado headquarters the day after the campaign was started in Xenia.

All the pledges to the fund have been paid and it is thought that the last money has been received.

The amount sent is in addition to several individual funds subscribed by churches and other organizations in the city.

ARRESTED AFTER TRYING EXTORTION

Sareveport, La., July 28.—Colonel J. B. Satterly, owner of a new office building here, received a letter threatening destruction of the building by dynamite, unless $10,000 was delivered according to directions. The attempt at extortion was frustrated with the arrest of John Thomas Sanders, 54, living near Waco, Tex. Sanders admitted authorship of the letter. He is charged with blackmail. "I thought Colonel Satterly was rich and would readily give up the amount I wanted rather than have his building blown up," the man said. Sanders was trapped by officers who went to the spot to which the letter directed that the money be taken.

GOVERNOR ORDERS SURVEY OF BRIDGES

Columbus, O., July 28.—Stating he believed many bridges in Ohio have been in service for fifty years and that he was reliably informed still others have been standing for eighty years, Governor Donahey today called upon Highways Director Boulay to have all state bridges investigated as to their safety. "I suggest that you have all county engineers investigate all bridges to determine whether they are safe for traffic," the governor wrote Boulay. "Where there is any doubt as to the ability to safely carry the legal load limit, the public has been warned." Governor Donahey's action, he said, was prompted by the collapse of a steel bridge in Dayton Thursday, carrying several trucks, automobiles and pedestrians down with it.

MODISH MITZI—Why Are They All Dressed Up?

BY JAY V. JAY

Well, Aunt Sophia is dressed up because Dad is coming out for the weekend. Her dress is of brown crepe satin with half of its bodice covered with ecru Venise lace. Pip tings of beige and orchid are the only other trimming.

Eleanor is expecting some gentle men, as yet unknown. In his honor she has put on a frock of powder blue crepe de chine with a wide frill and many pleats. Little crystal buttons are its only decorating feature.

Polly is waiting for the Goofer. To do him justice she won't have to wait long. Her dress is white crepe de chine with a becoming square neckline and with pleats from top to bottom. It also has a ruffle down one side.

Mitzi is waiting for Bill and man ages to look most cool and charming in an organdie frock that is pale apple green. It is made with a snug bodice and full flounced skirt. The fichu is white—also organdie.

Still Raided.

Cleveland, July 28.—Three thousand gallons of whisky were dumped in the street by Linndale prohibition workers, aided by Marshal W. S. Kiefer, after a raid during which they seized a 100-gallon still and arrested Thomas Banks as its owner. The still, according to the raiders, was capable of turning out 50 gallons of whisky a day.

BOWERSVILLE IN OVERTIME WIN WITH VISITORS

The Bowersville baseball team continued its winning streak Sunday afternoon at the expense of the Riverside Club, but was forced to go eleven innings before finally coming out ahead by a score of 8 to 7.

From the fifth inning to the eleventh, the Bowersville club was denied both hits or runs, but in the fatal inning, two hits, a base on balls, and an infield out scored the winning run.

Powers, centerfielder on the winning team cut off a sure run in the fourth frame with a perfect peg to the plate.

Wells, as all southpaw artists appear to be, was as wild as you make 'em. He walked the first two men up in fourth inning, but was not scored on.

The batting of Murrell, Bowersville catcher, was the feature of the day. He connected with two doubles and one triple in five times at bat, driving in three runs and scoring one himself.

Next Sunday the Bowersville team will have as its opponents, the Springfield Americans. The game will be played at Bowersville.

VETERAN BELIEVED FATALLY SHOT BY WIFE IN DAYTN

Dayton, July 28.—S. E. McVay, 45, a veteran of the Spanish American War, was wounded, probably fatally, by a shot fired by his wife, Mrs. Anna McVay, 36, last night about 6:30 o'clock. Mr. McVay confessed to the shooting in county jail.

McVay is at the hospital at the National Military Home in a critical condition the result of two shots which passed through his back, one it is believed having penetrated his stomach. The shooting occurred in the McVay home which is just outside of the west gate of the military home. As the house is outside the city limits, the sheriff was notified.

McVay was taken to the hospital while his wife was led to the county jail where she recounted a series of beatings which she alleged were given her by her spouse.

AMERICA'S WHEAT CROP IT BE SHORT 46 MILLION BUSHEL

Washington, July 28.—America's wheat crop this year will fall 46,000,000 bushels short of last year, the department of agriculture has estimated. In a report on the wheat crop the department predicted a production this year of 740,000,000 bushels. This production, coupled with a "carry over" of 102,000,000 bushels, compares with 830,000,000 bushels, last year's total. It was estimated that 34,000,000 bushels were held in interior mills and elevators on July 1, as compared with 37,000,000 bushels last year.

This year's 102,000,000 bushels carry over was said to be virtually the same as last year's. The department's report said the amount of wheat to be imported this year, was of course problematical but added that "with the increased duty, it is doubtful whether much will be imported, except in bond for milling purposes."

IMPROVEMENT OF GRAIN PRICES IS BIG HELP TO BANKS

Washington, July 23.—The treasury department announced that the bumper crop of wheat flooding the granaries of the west has halted the losses of financial institutions throughout the agricultural belt.

Improvement in grain prices, it was added, tended to clarify a situation that caused the treasury department serious alarm for the last 18 months. The real solution, it was pointed out, was provided by the farmers themselves, with the aid of a rising grain market. Efforts of the war finance corporation, the federal farm loan board and the agricultural credits corporation were merely auxiliary, though thousands of farmers were actually relieved from bankrupt conditions through government loans, which enabled them to plant the crops that are now yielding golden harvests.

Immense profit-taking sales at Chicago brought about subsequent sharp setbacks in wheat values, but, nevertheless day after day the market continued to surpass all previous high price records for the season. The fresh upturns in the Chicago market were largely due to surprising strength at Liverpool and Winnipeg and to indications that exporters were buying United States wheat, as well as purchasing in Canada.

Weather favorable for the new crop tended to counter-balance in the corn market the influence of the wheat bulge. Meanwhile oats were largely governed by corn. Demand for provisions was keen, with hogs at the top-most prices yet this year.

XENIA GUARANTORS SELL CHAUTAUQUA QUOTA OF TICKETS

Local Chautauqua guarantors met with success in the ticket sale for this season's program and the total ticket sale amounted to $1,793.

The guarantors must sell 700 tickets which amounts to $1,750, each year, in order to insure the financial success of the undertaking. The money raised over the quota will be divided between the Chautauqua and the guarantors for expenses. When the bills of the local backers are paid, the remaining money will be turned over to the Community Recreation Association.

The Chautauqua annually supplies everything for its engagement in the city with the exception of the grounds and is given the assurance of the sale of 700 tickets. Seventy-seven towns are covered by the Redpath Chautauqua circuit.

Seventy-five guarantors, including a number of new signatures have been signed for next year. The contract for the Chautauqua next year is the same as this year's and it is hoped that between 150 to 200 guarantors will be pledged for next year's program.

Health Hints
by the
Father of Physical Culture

The valves of the heart are subject to much wear and tear in the circulation of the blood. As these are covered by the same membrane—the endocardium—that lines the cavities of the heart, they are especially subject, because of their position and function, to any inflammation affecting this membrane. It is somewhat similar to a pump valve which wears out before other parts of the pump and has to be replaced. In the case of man, however, there can be no replacement of the worn-out valve.

When an infective poison carried along in the blood-stream reaches the heart, and the membrane becomes diseased, the tissues are softened and disintegrated, and particles of the valve break off or are absorbed, or the valve adheres to the wall of the cavity or excrescences form on the margins of the valve, or the heart cavity dilates, any of which prevents the closing of the valve at the proper time and allows blood to pass backward when it should be going forward, or prevents its onward flow.

A certain amount of blood must pass through the heart and be sent to the tissues of the body at every beat, but if one of the valves, most commonly that on the left side of the heart, allows some of the blood to pass backward or prevents its going forward, there is a disturbance of circulation, and until the equilibrium is reestablished the patient will suffer from the group of symptoms common to heart disease.

In other words, an organic change has taken place in the heart, and we have the condition known as organic heart disease, valvular disease of the heart, valvular regurgitation, insufficiency, incompetency, stenosis, valvular leakage, etc. And since the physician can hear the "swish" of the blood as it regurgitates, it is said that the patient has a "murmur" in his heart.

The valve can never be restored to normal, but what does happen is that the muscular walls of the heart become stronger and thicker, so that the same amount of blood is pumped as before. As long as this condition lasts we say that there is compensation, and if this is maintained by the patient taking care of himself he will get about.

MERCHANTS IN HITTING FEST DEFEAT RED SOX

The Xenia Merchants engaged in a batting orgy and succeeded in annexing their seventh straight game Sunday afternoon at Dickerson Park when they defeated the Richmond Red Sox of Indiana by a 11 to 6 score. The game was fast and exciting.

The first inning saw the demise of Lewis, star local twirler, who was touched for five scores and forced to leave the box. Jones, his successor, hurled air-tight ball the remainder of the game.

The Merchants touched the slants of Franklin, visiting pitcher, for two tallies in the first inning. From then on until the fifth inning, not a run crossed the platter. In the fifth, Jones allowed the Sox their only other run of the game, while the locals were piling up five runs, knocking Franklin out of the box. He was replaced by Smith. The sixth was a whitewash for both teams, but in the seventh the worm turned and the Merchants, by obtaining three runs, forged into the lead for the first time. In the eighth, the locals secured their final run of the game.

The Merchants displayed good form and hitting ability. Shoecraft, at first base, played a bang-up game for Xenia, getting two home runs during the pastime. Anderson of the locals was not far behind with one circuit clout.

Jones, who succeeded Lewis on the mound after the initial inning, deserves much credit for his relief pitching.

A large number of fans turned out for the game.

Next Sunday the Merchants will play the Traxlers nine of Dayton. This team has won thirteen straight contests and should give the locals a close game.

The lineup: Richmond: B. Kelly, cf; Dickerson, lf; Milton, ss; B. Gee, 1b; E. Knox, 2b; R. Landen, c; Cooper, 3b; Harris, cf; Franklin, p. Xenia: D. Porter, cf; Cunningham, lf; Anderson, ss; Shoecraft, 1b; A. Jones, 2b; Ewing, c; Long, 3b; P. Jones, p.

The score:
Xenia.....20005031X—11

Batteries: Xenia—Lewis, P. Jones and Ewing; Richmond—Franklin, Smith and R. Landen. Umpire, Lindsey. Scorer, Harris.

HERMAN WILL MEET BLOCKIE RICHARDS SOON

Dayton, Ohio, July 28—Tommy Herman, local kayo king and Blockie Richards former featherweight ring idol of Dayton and this vicinity have been matched by the North Dayton Amusement Company for a twelve round decision contest at North Side Park Monday night August 4.

The match has been in the making for several weeks and Max Yinger had a hard time in getting these two mitt slingers together. Herman was will but Richards was the one who backed out stating that Herman was a bit too heavy for him but these difficulties have been ironed out and Richards claims he will be in tip top shape and will give Herman a pasting.

Blockie has been out of the ring for several months but has been training all the time. He is anxious to re-establish his former prestige by handing the fast going Wop a setback.

Herman, as everyone knows has been advancing rapidly. He kayoed Young Webb in jig time and put up a whale of a battle against K. O. Mars of Cincinnati and Mel Coogan both to whom he lost decisions. Herman thinks that he can stop Richards and it is a safe bet that when these two clash the fur is bound to fly as both are hard hitters, and a real slugging setto can be looked for. The rest of the card will be rounded out in a few days.

The locals scored first in the round after E. Leachy led off with a double. Cain bunted to McBlane who tried to get Leachy going to third but failed in his attempt. Cain and Leachy worked the double steal in fine shape. Cain started for second and Hatfield negged through while Leachy made home and Cain was safe at second. Cooper was out kubbanded unassisted while Cain took third on the infield out from where he scored on Hatfield's passed ball. Randall was walked but was caught stealing second. D. Fuller walked but Zehwab fouled out to Hatfield for the last out.

The locals added four more in the second. Cox doubled to left but was tripled. P. Fuller doubled and Cyphers out trying to stretch his hit into a walk. E. Leachy tripled scoring P. Fuller and Cyphers. Cain got hold of one of McBlane's fast ones and knocked it out of the lot the blow scoring Leachy and himself. Cooper grounded out but Randall doubled to center. D. Fuller walked for the second time. Schwab hit sharply to short but his ground ball hit retiring the side. The locals made their seventh tally of the game in the third on a wild throw and two infield outs while in the fourth they added another pair of tallies on Cooper's safe bunt. Randall's double and Goff's error. The Reserves continued to score in the fifth when they made one and also the same number in the sixth and seventh frames. Scwab's single, Cyphers' triple Leachy's double, a sacrifice fly by P. Fuller and a muffed fly ball by Alely let the Chambliss nine score another quartet of runs in the eighth.

The entire Reserve team got one or more hits excepting D. Fuller Leachy, Cain and Randall led with three each. Leachy and Randall getting two doubles while Cain got a single, double and a home run.

Next Sunday the Reserves will play the Hamilton Triangles at Washington Park.

PRICE OF COFFEE STILL HINGES ON REVOLT IN BRAZIL

It is yet undecided whether coffee prices will increase according to wholesale grocers here. The whole question appears to hinge, not only upon the length of the Brazilian government revolt but upon the course the Brazilian government may take when the uprising is over, they say.

The new coffee crop is ready for shipment but the government attempting to control the price has held up the crop that is now ready for the market, it is said.

The leading question at the present is whether the Brazilian government will permit the back shipments to come out following cessation of hostilities, or on the other hand, whether the shipments will be restricted to the usual amount.

It is possible however that the need for ready cash may induce the officials to send the delayed shipments on, wholesalers say. In such an event the shortage will be greatly reduced. At present, no shortage is being experienced, as the supply is equal to the demand, it is pointed out.

OPPORTUNITY SEEN IN TRACCTIONS BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Park, Mass., July 28—Roger W. Babson's survey, of public utilities made public recently has caused much interest among the holders of depressed traction issues. The statistician reaffirms his belief and defends his position in a more detailed statement today.

"All tractions were supposed to be good a few years ago," says Mr. Babson. "Bankers and investors bought them readily because they were tractions, as all tax exempt issues have been gobbled up recently just because they are tax exempt. The automobile came in and the tractions began to lose passenger business. High operating costs during the war added to their difficulties and many of them went into receivership. The investing public promptly went sour on them and tractions became so unpopular as a class they were considered worthless. They are selling today at extremely low level and many good ones have suffered unduly as a result."

"Many tractions were financed and built during the traction boom that should never have been organized—that served no public necessity, but many others were sound and are still sound because they render a necessary public service. Fortunes will be lost and made on tractions during the next few years."

"In many of our cities congestion in automobile traffic is already a serious problem. This congestion will increase and the electric lines will become necessary than ever. I know many business men who deserted the electric cars years ago to drive to work by motor who today are going back to the electric cars as the most convenient transportation offered in our congested centers. The city electric lines are a necessity and will prosper more and more as the congestion increases."

"The problem of the suburban roads is different. Automobiles have come to stay and as long as highways will allow comfortable transportation the most people will ride in automobiles rather than in street cars. The fact, however, remains that the electric car line offers transportation at the lowest cost and the cars will always handle the mass transportation in large cities and between large centers. This passenger traffic must, however, be shared with the buses which will make it necessary for the electric lines to develop a freight business as well."

"The salvation of these properties lies in the opportunity to develop such a profitable freight business. I have recently studied several of the better suburban lines and find that they can carry freight cheaper than it can be transported in any other way. Nor will the development of electric freight hurt the steam roads. In fact, it will prove a blessing to them. The problem of handling steam freight is one of terminal facilities and a shipment that goes but fifty miles requires as much switching, terminal space, loading and unloading as one that goes a thousand miles. It costs the steam road almost as much to handle it, yet the tariffs on short hauls are small and do not cover this cost. Trolley freight offers better service to the shipper and this business can be handled at much less expense."

"How about the motor trucks?" Mr. Babson was asked.

"The motor truck has come into this field and has gone after business much more actively than the electric lines," he answered, "but the fact remains that the electric car can handle this business more economically than the truck. So far these two have been competing. In the future they will have to co-operate to their mutual advantage. Instead of the trucker hauling a load for a hundred miles over the highways he will call for it, transfer to the electric line, then have his partner or correspondent take it out and deliver it at the other end. The money will be divided between these two and both will make more money than they are today and render better service to the shipper. It will require fewer trucks. It will employ the electric lines and pay dividends to those who have invested in them. Further it will take the trucks off our highways and relieve motor congestion. Hence every owner of a passenger car will work to have such freight hauled by the electric lines since the steam roads will not take it with any reasonable dispatch."

"The truckers are already aware of these facts. I have discussed the matter with one man, who has been a hauling business for twenty years. He is now operating over fifty trucks in half a dozen states. He has kept accurate cost records and he says that he is ready to turn over all his longer hauls to the electric lines, in fact, has approached one or two of them in his territory to arrange a co-operation basis."

"All tractions, of course, are not situated so that they can take advantage of this new development. With business somewhat depressed—general activity as reflected on the Babson chart is now 11 per cent below normal—many of them will have to close up and junk their properties. I am firmly convinced, however, that others, suffering now with the group, will find a larger and more profitable field in electric freight."

SCHOOL BOOKS CALLING MAN AN "APE-LIKE MAMMAL" WOULD BE BARRED BY PREACHER

Sacramento, Cal., July 28—Texts Education for use in the high schools on science in the California public schools which teach that man is a product of evolution—and "an ape-like mammal"—must go, the Rev. George L. Troupe, of Cornish Everside County, declared, recently in a letter to Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Public Instructions.

Opposing the "ape-like" theory with a biblical quotation to the effect that man is the child of God, created after his own image, the clergyman asserted that the Hughes book on science, which he scored, will nurture a race of atheists and infidels unless it is promptly put under the ban.

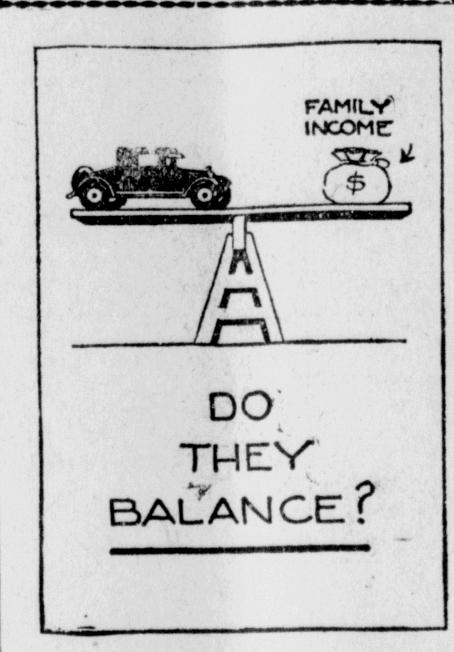

"Shall our country and our civilization be destroyed by the teaching of evolution in the public schools?" asks Rev. Thorpe.

"No. Evolution must go, and Hughes' book on science must go," the minister stated. "I have consulted with Governor Richardson relative to the teaching of evolution in the schools and that the Governor referred him to Superintendent Wood. The following statement was issued by Wood relative to the matter:—

"There are various text books in science listed in the State Board of

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

Is the cost of your motoring proportionate to your income? A financial survey of one of the midwest agricultural districts recently disclosed the fact that the cost of upkeep of motor driven vehicles plus the depreciation on them was $42,000,000. This amount is in excess of the total value of the crops in that district over the same period.

That means that the crops cannot pay the automobile bill—to say nothing of living costs! Is it any wonder that the people in that part of the country are having a hard time financially?

Every one admits that the automobile is one of the most powerful assets to human comfort and development. But it is not everything. Before you buy a car figure out what you will have to give up when you have one. A car is worth a lot—granted. But is it worth all your money for cultural development, all your books and charity—and all your savings?

Unless you can run an automobile and save money, wait to buy your car.

Two Attacked While Asleep. Cincinnati, July 28.—Charles Berhalter, 61, was murdered and his son-in-law, George Mercer, 26, seriously wounded while they slept on the Ohio river bank after they had set their fishing lines. Berhalter was slugged over the head with an iron pipe that was found near his body. Mercer sustained a fractured skull, which hospital officials say may prove fatal. The police have no clue.

LOVE-OR FAME?

by VIOLET DARE Author of "The Half-Time Wife"

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

DOROTHY LANE goes to New York to visit PERSIS GRANT and try to break into movies. She meets LAWRENCE FRENCH, a young publicity agent, and through him gets an engagement with JOHN SEWARD, "the great lover of the screen." Seward falls in love with her and asks her to marry him, but she refuses. She quarrels with Lawrence, whom she loves, and accepts the attentions of EIKHORN, a big producer, until they become obnoxious. A reporter comes to see her late one night after she has abruptly left Eikhorn, to tell her that Eikhorn has been boasting of having been her escort, and that John Seward has beaten him in public. He asks why Seward should defend her, and she, touched by Seward's chivalry, replies that she is engaged to him. Frightened by the tangle she has got into, Dorothy decides to give up her career and go home, but early in the morning she is on her way to the station she meets French, who persuades her to stay, and tells her that he has got an engagement for her with a friend of his who is making a picture in the country, and that she can leave town at once and he will straighten things out for her. She leaves at once, and that night reaches her destination and meets CARL BANNING, her new director.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT.

XLII—"MARRY ME RIGHT AWAY"

"YOU'LL love this little old inn where you're to stay," Mr. Banning went on; I felt sure that he was just talking on and on so that I wouldn't feel that I had to.

"It's one of the oldest buildings in this part of the country, and in the barn there's a queer old carriage that Lafayette rode in the last time he came to the States."

"The sun had gone down by that time, and the twilight was wonderful. There was a new moon, and the hay had just been cut in the fields past which we rode, so that the perfume in the air was wonderful. In spite of my fears a wonderful sense of peace came to me, and I felt more grateful than ever to Lawrence French for what he had done for me. I felt that I would have gone mad if I'd had to stay in New York and fight my troubles alone.

The inn was a darling place, and from my room, with its low ceiling and gable windows, I could see the famous falls. They were very high—higher than Niagara, the innkeeper said, though not so long, of course—and at first I found their roar very disturbing, but after a time it just soothed me.

The sheets on my square little wooden bed smelled of lavender, and by the old-fashioned dresser there was a patent rocking-chair—one of those big, old ones that are so comfortable. When I was a little girl my grandmother used to sit in one of those and rock me to sleep. Somehow, that memory made me feel even more at peace. I felt that I had gone into a new world, where the ghastly things that had happened in New York before I left had almost before I knew it his arms were around me; as he bent to kiss me I felt his heart beating against my own.

"You knew all along that I love you, didn't you?"

When Lawrence stepped back and looked at me there were tears in my eyes. I was so happy that I just couldn't keep from crying.

"Dodo, you knew it all along, didn't you—knew that I loved you, I mean," he said softly.

"Yes, I thought I did, but sometimes I felt pretty doubtful," I answered, snuggling my head down on his shoulder.

"I was on the verge of telling you that I loved you when you went off to Cape Cod with John Seward," Lawrence went on, holding me close to him again. "But I could see that he was mad about you, and I sort of thought that you cared for him. So I decided that the only thing to do was to wait and see how things turned out. He's a much richer man than I am, and much more prominent and attractive."

"Oh, he is not more attractive!" I cut in. "You're the best-looking man I've ever seen."

He laughed at that, and kissed me again before he went on.

"Well, anyhow, I knew that you'd never marry a man you didn't love, so I just waited and hoped," he answered. "Now let's find a corner somewhere where we'll be quite alone, and decide when we'll be married. How about tomorrow?"

"Oh, not so soon! Why, I haven't any clothes, or—I just couldn't," I told him.

"I brought your trunk with me, so you have plenty of clothes," he replied.

"That does take care of my objection, doesn't it?" I agreed. "But I've always wanted to be married at home—couldn't we wait a while for that?"

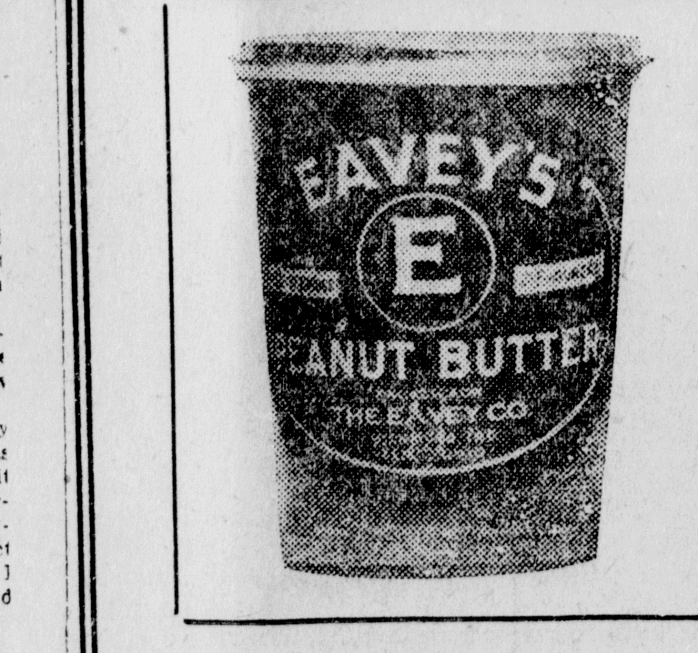

"We'll go there on our honeymoon," he answered. "Now tell me what time I can appear tomorrow with the minister."

It was impossible to think of any other reasons why I shouldn't do as he wished. I knew that probably it was impractical, though, remembering Larry's salary—he got seventy-five dollars a week—and the fact that I earned a good deal when I worked, it seemed certain that we'd have money enough to live on.

LEGALLY SANE BUT MORALLY TWISTED IS VERDICT OF ALIENISTS IN FRANKS CASE

EXAMINATIONS SHOW MINDS OF YOUTHS CROOKED

Defense Experts Will Testify Leopold Also Loeb Are "Queer."

Chicago, July 28.—Legally they are sane. Pathologically they are queer. Morally they are twisted. Mentally they are far advanced, but their fine intellects are distorted and crooked.

This, it was revealed today, is the verdict of the defense alienists, the men of science after exhaustive and minute examinations into the lives, characters and habits of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and "Dicky" Loeb, the 19-year-old youths, who kidnaped little Bobby Franks and then bashed his head in with a cold chisel just for the adventurous thrill of the thing.

These conclusions were reached after weeks of prodding and innumerable ex-rays of their bodies after scientific analysis of their minds, their emotions, after investigating their glands and their muscles; and after a searching study of their careers that began with the murder of the boy and then went backward to the very cradles in which their distorted intellects began to grow.

The scientists will spread their opinions upon the records of Justice John R. Caverly's court this week in an effort to save the necks of "Babe" and "Dicky."

Their conclusions, many of them weird as the crime itself, will constitute the "mitigating circumstances" of this unusual unnatural murder. It is these mitigating circumstances that Justice Caverly will be asked to consider when making his decision as to whether the dapper young intellectuals shall dance the dance of death at the end of a rope or spend the rest of their unnatural lives behind prison bars for the crime they committed "just for a thrill," just to give their twisted intellects the exercise that could be procured in no other way.

Loeb was the "master mind," according to the alienists. The girls used to call him "Angel Face Dicky." Behind the angelic mask, the scientists claim lies an intellect as fully developed and a moral being as twisted and terrible as that of "Mr. Hyde," or "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," or "Svengali," or any other fictional villain.

Leopold, the sheik looking accomplice, who knows the Lord's Prayer in fifteen different languages and who translates Sanskrit and Arabic as easily as he does French, was Dicky's "slave."

"Dicky" led; "Babe" followed. The spiritual genius of "Dicky" conceived the cold chisel murder of innocent little Bobby Franks; the fine, cold intellect of Leopold supplied the practical means of carrying it all out.

The alienists—Dr. Carl Mordock Bowman of Boston, and Dr. H. S. Hulbert, of Chicago, say all this. They base it on their study of the boys and they say it in a report that is longer than any full length novel, thousands of words devoted to the analysis of their innermost subconscious being.

Taken as a whole the report of the psychiatrists, constitutes perhaps the most amazing, weird and fantastic record of psychological and pathological analysis ever laid before an American court of law.

Its correctness and its shortcomings will be weighed by a judge who has dealt with thousands of criminals, from shoplifters to murderers, from street walkers to kidnappers, a stolid, somewhat phlegmatic judge, who has listened to the most absorbing tale in the annals of American crime without his face once giving expression to what is going on behind his thick lensed spectacles.

Both boys have a record of crime, the alienists found, that goes back to their knee pants days. When they were little fellows they stole their playmates' things, they broke windows and they were cruel to other children.

When they passed from their short pants to long pants, they studied tales of crime. They were always looking for thrills.

As they grew older and as their naturally fine minds began to flower, they became absorbed in the literature of their crime, they often planned the "perfect crime." They were impressed by the fact that very few "perfect crimes" had ever been committed.

Always the criminals left some trace, made some mistake, forgot something that turned them up in the end. One of the few "perfect crimes" in their lexicon was the kidnapping of Charley Ross. That is still an unsolved mystery. And both Leopold and Loeb had this in mind when they kidnaped little Bobby Franks and later hammered his skull in with a tape-wrapped cold chisel. The alienists believe that in any way.

Had not Leopold the "slave" lost his glasses near the culvert into which they stuffed Bobby's naked little body, they might have gotten away with another "perfect crime" but the glasses dropped unnoticed from his pocket, they were found and consequently the bungling of Leopold, the "mental slave" of Loeb, the "master," was responsible for the capture.

Senator Lodge Improving After Serious Operation

Boston, July 27.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, one of the best known men in American public life, is in a serious condition in the Charles Gate Hospital, following an emergency operation for bladder trouble.

To inquiries at nine o'clock concerning Lodge's condition, Dr. Cunningham replied: "Nothing much can be told for another 24 or 48 hours. He is in a serious condition."

Senator Lodge is 74 years old and the attending physicians feared that his advanced age might retard recovery.

Ever since his return from Washington a fortnight ago, Senator Lodge has been in precarious health and has been under the care of Dr. Frederick Winslow, of Boston. He suffered a relapse Sunday and Dr. Cunningham was called.

Dr. Cunningham, after examining the patient, decided that a quick operation was necessary. The senator was in great pain and cheerfully consented to immediate removal to the hospital, which is a private institution.

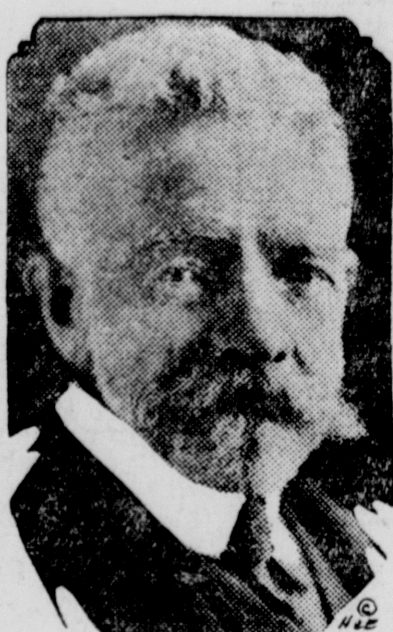

After recovering from the effects of the anesthetic, Senator Lodge appeared cheerful. A bulletin issued just before midnight said that the senator's condition was "satisfactory."

Later in the forenoon, attending physicians were quite optimistic.

Lodge ate a good breakfast, including two eggs on toast, and coffee, which he followed with a cigar. Physicians said they expected to operate on Lodge again in about two weeks.

Senator Lodge's general physical condition has been good for years, and

COMPETITION CAUSE OF FEWER EXPORTS

Washington, July 28.—Competition from other countries, rather than a reduction in consumption, is given by the department of agriculture as the explanation of the decline during the last few years in exports of American farm products to Great Britain. Once the chief source of supply of the United Kingdom for cotton, meats, wheat and tobacco, says a department analysis of the situation, the United States now retains supremacy in that market only with tobacco, lard and hams. American agricultural exports to the kingdom were less in volume and value in 1923 than in 1913, and improved economic conditions there are expected to increase the demand for staple products from other countries rather than the United States, the statement adds, unless American producers underbid their competitors or improve the quality of their offerings.

LOAN OFFICIALS ARE INDICTED

Cleveland, July 28.—Eleven indictments charging embezzlement, perjury, misapplication of monies, and of making false reports, were returned by a special grand jury against seven officials and directors of the Municipal Loan Representative Realty Interlocking Companies here Saturday.

Those indicted were: Sol Peskind, alleged "master mind"; Ben Karp, one of his chief aids; M. A. Vinson; T. W. Hutchcroft; E. K. Fisher; Fred D. Baker and Harry Perris.

The indictments are the result of a $300,000,000 crash of a number of home building companies which were members of the Municipal Loan Representative Realty Company.

The company, now defunct, according to special prosecutors, who handled the indictments cannot pay over $0.25 on the dollar.

Newark, O., July 28.—An automobile running at high speed on the Buckeye Lake road, west of here Sunday evening, skidded off the road and jammed head on into a concrete bridge, throwing the five occupants into a ravine. Gordon Matthews is perhaps fatally injured, he being badly cut and bruised and his back and neck seriously injured.

All live at 142 East Seventh avenue, Columbus. Edward Nevitts, 583 1-2 North High Street, Columbus, also in the party, sustained numerous cuts and bruises.

HEALTH EXHIBITS TO BE INCREASED

Columbus, July 28.—The Ohio state fair and many county fairs will feature health exhibits this fall, through co-operation of county and city health departments with the Ohio department of health. In each of the counties the county fair board has given material help. The state fair display will be conducted wholly by the state department of health, with the co-operation of the state department of agriculture, including special features by the bureau of animal industry, and the adjutant general's department. This year's state fair exhibit will be larger and more comprehensive than that of a year ago, and the county fair program will be an amplification of the work begun last year. Moving pictures, lectures and free literature will be interesting features.

ENGINEER DIES AT THROTTLE AS TRAIN WRECKED

Sixteen Injured When Coaches Fall Through Burning Bridge

Canton, O., July 28.—One person was killed and fifteen others injured when passenger train No. 7 on the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad dropped through a burning bridge near Beach City, this county.

The dead: Harry Johnson, engineer, Canton. Injured: Roy West, fireman, and William McDonald, conductor, both of Zanesville, and the following passengers: Orva Slarss, Edgar Camps, George Reed, Ed Boyd, Edwin Wyler and J. S. Moore, all of Fresno; R. L. Daugherty, J. R. Miller, Grover Huss, A. L. Norman, J. A. Mapes and Charles Stuart, all of Coshocton; H. MacPherson, Laura M. Hartley of Canton. Slarss and Stuart suffered internal injuries.

Survivors said the engine, baggage car, smoker, and day coach fell 25 feet with the collapsed bridge into Sugar creek and were destroyed by fire. The parlor car remained on the track. The train carried about 90 passengers, most of whom escaped with minor injuries.

It is stated that the engineer did not see the burning bridge until it was too late to stop the train because of a curve just before the track goes over the bridge. Johnson stuck to his train. Fireman West jumped or was thrown from the engine. The engine got across the bridge before it collapsed, but was pulled back and fell into the creek with the three cars. Ambulances and physicians were sent from Beach City and a relief train, ambulances and physicians from Wooster, division headquarters of the railroad.

Men in the coaches seized fire axes, broke windows and chopped out window frames, so the passengers could get out of the burning cars, which were thrown on the bank, clear of the eight feet of water in the stream. Fireman West sustained a broken ankle and internal injuries. Conductor McDonald's injuries were said to be slight.

FLYERS MAKE FINAL PLANS FOR FLIGHT ACROSS ATLANTIC

Brough, England, July 28.—The United States round the world flyers, under command of Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, made their final arrangements today for the trans-Atlantic hop off of their epochal flight.

Floats which had been fitted to the three Yankee planes were tested out in the estuary of the Humber river.

Lieutenant Smith and his five companions are chafing at the delay and are anxious to get started on the leg of their historic flight which will take them back to the American continent.

The airman, up to noon, had not received word from Admiral Magruder U. S. N., that the supplies and safety ships were all in their appointed stations. The aviators are under orders not to start until Admiral Magruder sends this information.

It was hoped that the admiral would notify the aviators that "he sets are all in place by Wednesday. If the weather is favorable, the aviators expect to start for Kirkwall at dawn Wednesday.

CONTEST FOR FAIR QUEEN NEXT WEEK

Columbus, July 28.—Charles V. Truax, Ohio director of agriculture, announced a statewide popularity contest for selection of an "Ohio State Fair Queen." Competition is to begin Aug. 4 and be concluded Aug. 20. Coronation of the "queen" will be one of the interesting events of state fair week. The winner will be brought to Columbus as guest of the state fair and will have a leading part in each day's program of events. She will be presented with a Rollin coupe as a capital prize, the gift of the fair management and the company manufacturing this car. The leading role in "Queen Fashion," the pageant spectacle, will be assigned to her; she will assist Governor Donahay in awarding the governor's cup at the races; will be the guest of the executive at the horse show, and will be royally entertained throughout the week.

AMERICAN DIPLOMATS MAY BE WITHDRAWN AS RESULT OF SITUATION

State Department Demands Protection of Nationals and Official Representatives Or Break In Relations Will Follow

Washington, July 28.—Withdrawal of American diplomatic representatives from Persia unless that government makes adequate and prompt reparations because of the killing of Vice Consul Imbrie at Teheran was threatened today by the United States government in one of the most blunt and outspoken notes that has ever been issued by the state department.

The maintenance of diplomatic relations between Persia and the United States, said the American note, are dependent upon the according of adequate protection to their respective nationals and to their official representatives.

The note was handed to the Persian authorities at Teheran by Joseph Saul Kornfeld, the American minister and consul Imbrie's immediate superior.

Payments of reparations to Mrs. Imbrie, widow of the vice consul and the paying of the expenses of sending a

United States battleship to Persia to bring Imbrie's body back to this country for burial were demanded of the Persian government in the note.

State department officials declined to discuss the Persian situation, in addition to making public the note to the Persian government. It was indicated however that the situation was considered to be so grave and important in its bearing upon future events, that President Coolidge would not hesitate a moment in withdrawing recognition from Persia and recalling Minister Kornfeld.

One of the battleships now in European or Asiatic waters will be sent to Persia to bring back Major Imbrie's body. The presence of this vessel in Persian waters, it was pointed out, will serve to make it clear to the Persian authorities that this government is prepared to go to any limit to enforce its demands on Persia and to assure itself that there will be no repetition of the events leading up to the assassination of the vice consul, the injury of a member of his party, and subsequent insults to his widow.

BRITISH FLIER'S WIFE GREET'S AMERICANS

Mrs. MacLaren GREET'S LIEUT. SMITH, U.S.A.
Mrs. Stuart MacLaren, wife of the British 'round-the-world flier, is shown greeting Lieutenant Lowell Smith, U. S. A. Air Service, when the commander of the American 'round-the-world flight reached London, where she thanked him for rushing a spare motor to her husband when he was forced down in Asia. Major MacLaren was missing at the time of the arrival in London, and Lieutenant Smith reassured Mrs. MacLaren about her husband's safety. Major MacLaren was found later, alive and well.

GERMANY INVITED TO TAKE PART IN ALLIED MEETING

London, July 28.—Plans for evacuation of all occupied German territory including the Ruhr, were discussed today by the delegates to the interallied reparations conference.

Heads of the various delegations met at noon, preliminary to the plenary session later in the day and made progress towards important decisions which may decide the fate of the parley.

The first committee met to draft an amended report, which it was understood, makes concessions to the international banking group regarding guarantees for the proposed $200,000,000 German loan.

A new American proposal which Thomas Lamont was said to believe acceptable in overcoming the opposition of the international banking group was considered by the first committee.

London, July 28.—As the delegates gathered this afternoon for a plenary session of the interallied reparations conference, it was strongly reported that an invitation would be extended to the Germans to enter the parly, upon a basis of equality.

At the same time, it was understood that the chances were much better for satisfying the international bankers as to guarantees for loan.

Intimation had been given in Prisoner Loses Life.
Columbus, July 28.—Ralph Fritsch, 22, Cincinnati, serving a sentence of from 15 to 20 years for shooting with intent to kill, in connection with an attempted holdup of the Sharonville bank in February, 1923, was killed when he attempted to escape from the Ohio penitentiary. He was knocked from the east wall 40 feet to the ground, after coming in contact with high tension wires. He suffered burns and a fractured left arm, dying from the fall and the electric shock.

GERMANY INVITED TO TAKE PART IN ALLIED MEETING

French circles that Premier Herriot of France, was ready to make further concessions and to promise that France would not take independent action in the future to enforce sanctions.

There has been an appreciable lessening of pressure upon Premier Herriot from Paris.

Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes departed for Paris, where he is expected to confer with former Premier Poincare, leader of the irreconcilable anti-German group.

Secretary Hughes will outline America's attitude toward the obligations of the Dawes reparation plan, and may be able to persuade Poincare to give more support to Premier Herriot than he has heretofore.

America's political views probably will take a more prominent position this week than at any other time since the conference opened.

Premier Herriot has postponed his departure in the belief that the meeting will last the greater part of this week.

Berlin, July 28.—It was learned from an authoritative source this afternoon that an invitation is on the way to Berlin for Germany to participate actively in the interallied reparations conference at London.

The German delegates are preparing to leave Wednesday.

TWO GIVEN FINES

Charles Chance, 33, and Lewis Lambert, 35 of the Columbus pike, pleaded guilty to charges of drunk and disorderly when arraigned in Police Court Monday morning and were fined $50 and $25 and costs respectively by Judge E. D. Smith. They were arrested Sunday evening by Patrolman Simms.

INDEPENDENTS LACK FUNDS FOR FALL CAMPAIGN

Finance Committee Named To Solicit Money For Drive.

Washington, July 23.—A finance committee has been appointed by the managers of the La Follette-Wheeler campaign.

Attorney General Herman Ekern of Wisconsin received the appointment as director of the financial campaign insofar as it relates to the general public. William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, was designated to direct the campaign for contributions from labor and other organizations. W. T. Rawleigh, a Freeport (Ill.) manufacturer, was appointed treasurer of the public fund, with headquarters in Chicago, and Warren S. Stone, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, treasurer of funds collected from labor and farm organizations. Mr. Ekern issued the following statement:

"This will be a cash and carry campaign, conducted strictly on the plan of raising the money to pay as you go. The independent candidacy of La Follette for president and Wheeler for vice president has the immediate extra burden of placing their electors on the ballot and securing organizations in the different states. This work is handicapped for lack of funds. The immediate need for money is urgent. Prompt remittances to Treasurer W. T. Rawleigh, Morrison hotel, Chicago, will be welcomed. A hundred dollars now will be worth $1,000 later in the campaign. The exaggerated statements recently carried in the press regarding the amount of money to be raised do not help pay any bills."

The La Follette campaign committee denied that an official blacklist of congressmen had been prepared. In a statement the committee said that while it had been given full authority to pass upon the endorsement of candidates for congressional, state and local offices, "no action has been taken with regard to any such candidates." "Action will not be taken by the committee," the statement concluded, "until a thorough study has been made of the official records of the candidates in the respective states."

Democratic leaders here say that John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, during the coming campaign, will be largely in the saddle, and that his personal base of operations will be his home at Locust Valley, N. Y. Under present plans, Mr. Davis will remain in New York until Aug. 9, arriving in Clarksburg, W. Va., on Sunday, the day before the delivery of his acceptance address. He will leave there probably on the day after the notification ceremonies, returning to New York before starting on his first campaign tour. The working out of routes of the tours into the various sections and the selection of cities and dates for the set addresses will be taken under consideration after the return of the candidate to New York this week.

TORNADO RELIEF FUND SWELLED

Columbus, July 28.—According to State Chairman Fred A. Miller, rural communities are responding generously to the appeal for the $500,000 fund for the northern Ohio tornado relief. Especially progressive is the work that has been carried on under State Grange Master Harry A. Caton through his county deputies of local granges; under L. B. Palmer, state president of the farm bureau, through local farm bureau representatives; and also through the local county agents under H. C. Ramsower, director of the agricultural extension at Ohio State university. Enthusiasm is reported running high in the mining district, and Nelsonville, Athens, Logan, Laurelville and Glouster, although experiencing dull times in coal production, have oversubscribed their quotas and are still remitting funds. Numerous local miners' unions have made special appropriations.

HORSE IS VICTIM OF FREIGHT TRAIN

A horse belonging to the Stiles Coal Company at Detroit and Hill Streets, was killed by a Baltimore and Ohio freight train, sometime Sunday night.

It is thought the horse wandered from the pasture adjacent to the coal office onto the track by the was found along the track by the driver when a search for the horse was started Monday morning.

FORMER NAVAL OFFICER POINTS OUT MENACE FROM AIR AND URGES ANTI-PLANE DEFENSE

By Rear Admiral W. F. FULLAM,
(U. S. N. Retired)
(Written For The International News Service.)
(Copyright 1924 by the International News Service.)

Washington, July 28—It is welcome news that the coast artillery corps of the United States army is alive to the immediate need of perfecting a system of anti-aircraft defense for the sea frontiers of the United States as well as the Canal Zone and all our foreign possessions.

The menace from the air is upon us. The situation is critical. During the world war the record of anti aircraft guns was very disappointing. Aviators paid little attention to gun fire from the ground. Under certain conditions they were forced to fly a little higher but it was generally conceded that the percentage of casualties was almost negligible. It appeared that the attack from the air could only be effectively met by air defense—that is by a superior number of fighting planes ever ready to take the air when cavalry of the skies, in hostile array, approached within fighting range. And it must be admitted that aircraft remain by far the most effective defense against aircraft. Nevertheless we must resort to every conceivable auxiliary method that may assist as a protection from the horrors of huge bombs and especially from the deluge of poison gas that may be rained down in the next war.

The war department has now ready for service seven different types of anti aircraft guns, ranging from the small 50 calibre machine gun to the 4.7 inch cannon. In daylight these guns, if skillfully served, cannot be ignored. At night they will not be so effective.

Preparedness for the defense must not blind us to the growing power of the attack. We must not rely upon the seemingly effective fire of guns against airplanes. Coincident with improvement in the defending gun we learn today that a new telescope sight has been invented that vastly increases the accuracy of the bombing plane. This has been the one weakness in air attack. The sights were crude. The aviator was compelled to train for many weary hours to fly comparatively low to secure a hit.

Naval and military history repeat themselves. Previous to the introduction of telescope sights, naval batteries were ineffective except at short range. It was hit or miss depending on the gun pointer's eye, and personal judgment. The new bombing sight will no doubt increase the aviator's hits in like proportion. The difficulty in getting a suitable sight for an airplane seemed almost insurmountable.

The key to the problem was to establish a fixed vertical line for the mounting of the telescope—a line pointing always toward the earth's center, no matter whether the plane was flying upside down or not. The lay reader would find it difficult, perhaps to understand all the mathematical principles involved. It is sufficient to say that the principle of the pendulum allied to that of the gyroscope has been hatched to the telescope that an ever fixed vertical line has been assured and corrections for altitude and speed for the plane can be easily made so the flying gunner is quite as accurate as on board ship.

SHIPYARD OWNER SHOT IN RUM WAR

Pacific Grove, Calif., July 28—Simon Moore, shipyard owner, was shot and probably fatally wounded and two others wounded early today when alleged rum runners were ambushed by officers at the beach near where it is believed plans had been laid for landing a cargo of Canadian whiskey.

Moore, according to Pacific Grove

officials was shot through the head. Harry Johnson, policeman and a third man said have worn a soldiers uniform in the world war also were wounded.

MAY BOYCOTT UNLESS TRAFFIC CAMPAIGN STOPS

Farmers residing in the neighborhood of Mechanicsburg and who trade in that hamlet are threatening to boycott the town and do their buying from other towns because of the alleged "high handed" campaign of Mayor J. C. Hathaway against violators of traffic rules.

Members of the village council and business men called on the Mayor last Thursday and made an appeal for more "reasonable" enforcement of traffic laws. They were met with the statement by Mayor Hathaway that he would do as he pleased, it is said.

Fourteen men were arrested in the town in one day for violations of the traffic code.

"NO TAIN OF LEGALITY IN MY APPEARANCE IN LONDON," SAYS HUGHES

Englishmen who admired Roosevelt's audacity were first to applaud recently when Secretary of State Hughes, emphasizing that his visit to England was entirely unofficial, opened his address at the Pilgrim's dinner by saying:

"Borrowing the phrase of a famous statesman with respect to a certain international transaction in which he took pride, I may say that there is not the slightest taint of legality in my appearance here tonight."

The Secretary's declaration was greeted with rounds of applause and laughter, and soon the story was going around that the reference was to Roosevelt and his Panama policy. The story told was that President Roosevelt had found all his Cabinet, except one, sympathetic with his Panama policy. Philander Knox alone was unresponsive. When Roosevelt asked the Attorney General for his opinion on the legality of the Washington Government's action in Panama, Mr. Knox is said to have replied: "Mr. President, if I were you I should not have the slightest taint of legality about the whole affair."

BUTLER ANNOUNCES NATION-WIDE CAMPAIGN MINUS USUAL REGIONAL ISSUES

Chairman Butler has announced that the Republican Party would consider all issues as national and would carry them into the North, South, East and West.

The party would not concentrate on any few sections nor attempt to carry any evasion or silence, he said.

F. C. Hicks, former Representative from New York, was named Eastern manager for the campaign.

The Republican presidential campaign will be nationwide in every sense of the term, Chairman Butler, of the National Committee said by way of explanation of the methods to be used in behalf of Coolidge and Dawes.

Mr. Butler asserted there would be no concentration of effort in one or two sections where the Republican ticket was obviously popular with the hope that other parts of the country might be carried by "silence and evasion of issues." He promised vigorous campaign throughout the country—North, East, South and West.

"We have a platform," declared Mr. Butler, "and a presidential ticket that makes it possible to conduct a campaign everywhere in the open, as energetically in one part of the country as in another, and to present our cause with utmost frankness."

CAN'T WORK FOR FOOD IF YOU SMELL OF LIQUOR

Prohibition has its own clearly legible record of increased industrial efficiency in the number of employees who report fit for duty after a week-end or a holiday. The new order of the Ford plant to all its operatives is the most drastic edict of the sort that has been published in the enforcement of the policy of abstinence in business. But dismissal without opportunity for appeal in the case of a workman found with intoxicants upon his person might work a hardship as the sequel to a practical joke or a malicious design of other employees. And the discovery of liquor in the house for which the same penalty is inflicted, might entail an odious system of search and espionage which is likely to be resented as un-American.

POLICE VS GEN. BUTLER IS "THE RUB"

A West Philadelphia saloon is said to have been raided by the police eight times. If these visits were justified and if violations of law were discovered on each occasion, it is a sorry commentary upon law enforcement that such conditions can be allowed to go on. Even allowing for faulty evidence in, say, half of the occasions when this particular saloon was the subject of police attention, it is a fair presumption that it was violating the law. Nowadays what other reason can there be for the existence of a saloon? Soft stuff is a notoriously unprofitable branch of saloon trade; and saloonkeepers do not remain in business for their health. Law enforcement becomes ludicrous if it has no greater effect in requiring respect for the law than is apparent in this case.—Public Ledger.

JUST FOLKS

Edgar A. Guest

AT FORTY-THREE

At forty-three, life seems to me
A blend of truth and mystery;
I've trudged the years of smiles and tears,
Loved, laughed and felt the chill of fears.

Seen hope go down and fortune frown
And learned how trivial is renown;
And what I've kept I'd fling away
For love that came but couldn't stay.

Time was that I with eager eye
Went pleasure seeking far or nigh;
The thing called mirth bestrewed the earth

And only daring deeds had worth;
Then, right or wrong, I must be strong

With fame to beckon me along;
But now I know this isn't so;
In gentler ways the soul must grow.

Some things are cheap which we can keep
But life shall ask us all to weep;
The tears shall fall and one and all
Shall sigh for smiles beyond recall.

And at the grave with courage brave
Shall give to God what they would save

And still believe, although they grieve,
That Heaven has need of those who leave.

I've looked ahead with doubt and dread
To laugh when once the fears had fled;
Of pain and care I've had my share
But never more than I could bear;
And I have learned as roads I've turned

'Tis truest riches must be earned;
Fame seems to be worth less to me
And friends worth more at forty-three.

S.S.S. keeps away Pimples

THERE are thousands of women who wonder why their complexions do not improve in spite of all the face treatments they use. They should not continue to wonder. Eruptions come from blood impurities and a lack of rich blood-cells. S.S.S. is acknowledged to be one of the most powerful, rapid and effective blood cleansers known. S.S.S. builds new blood-cells. This is why S.S.S. roots out of your system the impurities which cause boils, pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash. S.S.S. is a remarkable flesh-builder. THE TEACHER

The noblest man who ever lived was a Teacher.

He went about "doing good," and setting an example. He didn't tell folks to do this or that, and not to do certain things, but He emphasized how beautiful it was to live aright and showed the world in His own example.

I owe much more to those who did their best to teach me in High School and College for what they were than all that they sought to get into my head from the books they talk about.

The greatest book in the world is a great character.

To my notion the teaching profession is the noblest and most important in the world. To mold a mind to think aright is much greater than to build a bridge or a building or to be elected President of the United States.

I have many clever friends who are earning $50,000 a year. I know of no Teacher who is earning this amount. I will change that statement; there are many who are earning that amount but none who receive it.

If I had my way I would have my country float a huge bond issue and ask the well-fed folks to buy them.

Then I would see that every Teacher in the land was paid deservedly and well. I would like to see Teachers the highest paid servants in the world. Then we should have a better world in which to live.

I know how tired the Teacher gets. He or she never complains. They sacrifice and give. That is their work of life. They see out of their hearts into the future when all that they have given brings forth ripe harvests of usefulness and happiness. And they keep right on doing their noble work.

God bless the Teachers. I hope that everyone who reads this brief talk will never lose the chance to honor them or to better their lot. They are the salt of the earth.

BELIEVE RETREAT OF REBELS FROM SAO PAULO TO END REVOLT

Rio De Janeiro, July 28—Brazilian rebel forces at Sao Paulo have capitulated, said an official communique issued this afternoon.

Retreat of the rebels from their stronghold at Sao Paulo is believed to be a crushing blow to the revolution. Officials are hopeful that the movement will soon be broken up. The revolutionary movement, it was pointed out, never did involve possession of Sao Paulo state.

Rio De Janeiro, July 28—The rebel army has evacuated Sao Paulo and the government troops have taken possession of the city according to reports today from Sao Paulo.

The rebels deserted the city during the night and marched towards Campinas a small town about 100 miles west of Sao Paulo, where it was reported, they would take another stand.

Mrs. Henry Ford, wife of the automobile manufacturer, is recovering in the Ford Hospital, Detroit, from a serious major abdominal operation. Grand Duke Nicholas, uncle of the late Czar and commander-in-chief of the Russian armies in the World War, now in exile near Paris, asserts that the Soviet regime is tottering and that the "red" army will cease to be "red" when the "hour strikes." Russian monarchists hope to place Nicholas on the throne. Sir Edward Elgar, noted British composer, has been appointed Master of King's Music by King George, succeeding the late Sir Walter Parratt. Jacob Adler, famous Jewish actor, who retired two years ago after 50 years on the stage, returned, at 69 years of age, for one performance of Jacob Gordon's "Stranger." Three of his daughters were in the cast, all the lines being spoken in Yiddish.

PHOSPHORUS BOMB. INTL.

This picture, made months ago, has been kept as a closely guarded secret by the U. S. Army Air Service, and has just been released for publication. When the army airmen bombed old ships that were scrapped under the disarmament treaty they used a new and deadly form of bomb—a 1,000 pound missile loaded with phosphorous, with its devastating effects. Nothing could be more illuminating as a test on the value of the airplane during war than this picture, showing a direct hit on the fire control platform of the old battleship. No one could have lived aboard the vessel.

CHAUTAUQUA WEEK EN D PROGRAMS PLEASE LARGE AUDIENCES-ELSIE BAKER MONDAY

One of the nicest enjoyable entertainments of the Chautauqua course presented this season was that Saturday evening by the DuMont Company and followed by Jane Goude, known in the theatrical world as "The Girl from the West," who gave a series of readings and impersonations.

Joe DuMont is a lyric baritone, possessing a voice of unusual quality showing the fine training he received under the tutelage of the famous concert, baritone, Louell Wallis and also L. A. Torrence, both of New York City.

Irene DuMont, pianist and contralto, and Max Noah, basso and cellist, the other members of the trio, received their musical instruction under Josef Shevonne and Wallis and Torrence respectively. Joe DuMont is also a talented accordionist and pianist.

As an illustration of the beauty of the oldtime melodies, they presented to the audience an original playlet typical of an old time love scene entitled "Old Fashioned Days."

Among their selections were "Alah's Holiday," by Fremie; "Peasant's Evening Prayer," by Suppe, and an Italian serenade, consisting of a melody of Italian airs.

The moment Jane Goude stepped before her audience, she won their friendship.

Her program was opened by a humorous skit entitled "How do you do," by "Army" Ambrose. This was followed by a playlet in one act entitled the "Florist Shop," by Winifred Hawerage. Next came "Mrs. Puffer's Silver Wedding," featuring the gossip of a washerwoman. "The Grip," by F. P. Dunne, was a funny Irish characterization, while "I'm glad I touched shoulders with you," served as an excellent closing number.

"The Dawn of the New Civilization" was the subject of the stirring address by Waldo E. Stephens Saturday afternoon. The lecture followed a concert by the DuMont Company.

Dr. Thomas E. Green, who spoke Saturday afternoon, on "Guarding the Outposts," is widely known as the man who builds eloquence out of facts and figures. He is an almost constant traveler and in his visits to various corners of the earth has gathered a vast store of unusual information.

His interesting address lay in his power to make facts and figures interesting, adding an unusual power of graphic description and eloquence of speech.

The opening part of the Saturday afternoon program was devoted to the Musical Maids, who delighted the audience.

Half seriously, half pleadingly, Waldo Stephens told a large Sunday evening Chautauqua audience that the great need of the people today is world enlightenment. He counseled a thorough study of world-wide political and industrial conditions. In a short characterization of leading nations he portrayed the United States as a "rich young man," England as a conservative business man, France as a "diplomat" in the family of nations, Germany the "scientist," Russia the "common laborer," India the "dreamer," China as the "old philosopher" and Japan as the "young man in the adolescent period." Mr. Stephens said:

"The man of the west looks upon the man of the east as a heathen and a barbarian while on the other hand the eastern man portrays the western man as 'peculiar.' The greatest barrier between an eastern and western understanding is custom.

"There are three tasks confronting the American people—cleaning up our own government, eliminating lawlessness and uniting against various undesirable factions.

"Let us, in order to do this, take a greater part in national politics as the ruling force of our country is public opinion.

Suggestions for the solution of the problem confronting the larger percentage of women, how to be well dressed on a moderate income, were presented in an interesting way by Evelyn Hansen at the Monday morning program. With living models, Miss Hansen illustrated type dressing, clothes for mother, daughter and business women, for sport, afternoon and evening wear.

Her talk was heard by a good-sized audience, composed largely of women who were interested in the subject.

One of the outstanding features of the entire Chautauqua program, the second play to be offered during the week, George M. Cohan's comedy success, "The Meanest Man in the World" was enjoyed by the Monday afternoon audience. A cast of eight Broadway players presented the rollicking comedy.

The unusually good musical programs that have marked the week's program, will be enhanced by the appearance of Miss Elsie Baker, celebrated contralto, Monday evening. Miss Baker has made more than sixty records for the Victor Company. She will have as an associate artist for her program, Grover Tilden Davis, pianist and composer.

The three-fold program Tuesday will complete the week's engagement here. The Duval brothers will give a program of magic, mystery and rag pictures Tuesday morning.

Tuesday afternoon, Vierra's Hawaiians will give a concert, supplemented by a lecture demonstration "Bee Behavior" by Ernest R. Root.

The Hawaiians will present "An Evening in Hawaii" at the Tuesday evening performance, with South Sea scenic and lighting effect.

FINAL CHECK UP IS NOW COMPLETED

A final check-up of the fund raised in Xenia city for tornado relief in northern Ohio, was made Monday morning among the city banks and the final funds sent off.

The fund now totals $1,429.20, 40 per cent more than the quota of $1,000 for the city, and including the $1,200 sent to tornado headquarters the day after the campaign was started in Xenia.

All the pledges to the fund have been paid and it is thought that the last money has been received.

The amount sent is in addition to several individual funds subscribed by churches and other organizations in the city.

ARRESTED AFTER TRYING EXTORTION

Shreveport, La., July 28.—Colonel J. B. Slatery, owner of a new office building here, received a letter threatening destruction of the building by dynamite, unless $10,000 was delivered according to directions. The attempt at extortion was frustrated with the arrest of John Thomas Sanders, 54, living near Waco, Tex. Sanders admitted authorship of the letter. He is charged with blackmail. "I thought Colonel Slatery was rich and would readily give up the amount I wanted rather than have his building blown up," the man said. Sanders was trapped by officers who went to the spot to which the letter directed that the money be taken.

GOVERNOR ORDERS SURVEY OF BRIDGES

Columbus, O., July 28.—Stating he believed many bridges in Ohio have been in service for fifty years and that he was reliably informed still others have been standing for eighty years, Governor Donahey today called upon Highways Director Boulay to have all state bridges investigated as to their safety. "I suggest that you have all county engineers investigate all bridges to determine whether they are safe for traffic," the governor wrote Boulay. "Where there is any doubt as to the ability to safely carry the legal load limit, the public has been warned." Governor Donahey's action, he said, was prompted by the collapse of a steel bridge in Dayton Thursday, carrying several trucks, automobiles and pedestrians down with it.

URBANA BUDGET IS MORE THAN $100,000

Estimated receipts from the various city departments total $11,500 and the total amount which must be raised by taxation is $90,954.78. The budget is practically the same as that passed last year.

MODISH MITZI—Why Are They All Dressed Up?

Well, Aunt Sophia is dressed up because Dad is coming out for the weekend. Her dress is of brown crepe satin with half of its bodice covered with ecru Venice lace. Pippins of beige and orchid are the only other trimming.

Eleanor is expecting some gentle men, as yet unknown. In his honor she has put on a frock of powder blue crepe de chine with a wide frill and many pleats. Little crystal buttons are its only decorating feature.

Polly is waiting for the Goofer. To do him justice she won't have to wait long. Her dress is white crepe de chine with a becoming square neck-line and with pleats from top to bottom. It also has a ruffle down one side.

Mitzi is waiting for Bill and man ages to look most cool and charming in an organdie frock that is pale apple green. It is made with a snug bodice and full flounced skirt. The fichu is white—also organdie.

MacMillan, Treasurer of the Central Iowa Fuel Company on "Christ First in Education," by O. Bent Wallace of Westminster College on "Christ First in Education," by O. E. Bradfute of the Farm Bureau on "Christ First in Rural Life" and by Dr. W. B. Anderson of the Foreign Mission Board on "Christ First in the Religious Word."

Still Raided.

Cleveland, July 28.—Three thousand gallons of whisky were dumped in the street by Linndale prohibition workers, aided by Marshal W. S. Kiefer, after a raid during which they seized a 100-gallon still and arrested Thomas Banks as its owner. The still, according to the raiders, was capable of turning out 50 gallons of whisky a day.

BOWERSVILLE IN AMERICA'S WHEAT OVERTIME WIN WITH VISITORS

The Bowersville baseball team continued its winning streak Sunday afternoon at the expense of the Riverside Club, but was forced to go eleven innings before finally coming out ahead by a score of 8 to 7.

From the fifth inning to the eleventh, the Bowersville club was denied both hits or runs, but in the fatal inning, two hits, a base on balls, and an infield out scored the winning run. Powers, centerfielder on the winning team cut off a sure run in the fourth frame with a perfect peg to the plate.

Wells, as all southpaw artists appear to be, was as wild as you make 'em. He walked the first two men up in fourth inning, but was not scored on.

The batting of Murrell, Bowersville catcher, was the feature of the day. He connected with two doubles and one triple in five times at bat, driving in three runs and scoring one himself. Next Sunday the Bowersville team will have as its opponents, the Springfield Americans. The game will be played at Bowersville.

The score:

VETERAN BELIEVED FATALLY SHOT BY WIFE IN DAYTON

Dayton, July 28.—S. E. McVey, 45, a veteran of the Spanish American War, was wounded, probably fatally, by a shot fired by his wife, Mrs. Anna McVey, 35, last night about 6:30 o'clock. Mr. McVey confessed to the shooting in county jail.

McVey is at the hospital at the National Military Home in a critical condition the result of two shots which passed through his back, one it is believed having penetrated his stomach. The shooting occurred in the McVey home which is just outside of the west gate of the military home. As the house is outside the city limits, the sheriff was notified.

McVey was taken to the hospital while his wife was led to the county jail where she recounted a series of beatings which she alleged were given her by her spouse.

CRCP TT BE SHORT 46 MILLION BUSHEL

Washington, July 28.—America's wheat crop this year will fall 46,000,000 bushels short of last year, the department of agriculture has estimated. In a report on the wheat crop the department predicted a production this year of 740,000,000 bushels. This production, coupled with a "carry over" of 102,000,000 bushels, compares with 880,000,000 bushels, last year's total.

It was estimated that 24,000,000 bushels were held in interior mills and elevators on July 1, as compared with 37,000,000 bushels last year.

This year's 102,000,000 bushels carry over was said to be virtually the same as last year's. The department's report said the amount of wheat to be imported this year, was of course problematical but added that "with the increased duty, it is doubtful whether much will be imported, except in bond for milling purposes."

IMPROVEMENT OF GRAIN PRICES IS BIG HELP TO BANKS

Washington, July 23.—The treasury department announced that the bumper crop of wheat flooding the granaries of the west has halted the losses of financial institutions throughout the agricultural belt.

Improvement in grain prices, it was added, tended to clarify a situation that caused the treasury department serious alarm for the last 15 months. The real solution, it was pointed out, was provided by the farmers themselves, with the aid of a rising grain market. Efforts of the war finance corporation, the federal farm loan board and the agricultural credits corporation were merely auxiliary, though thousands of farmers were actually relieved from bankrupt conditions through government loans, which enabled them to plant the crops that are now yielding golden harvests.

Immense profit-taking sales at Chicago brought about subsequent sharp setbacks in wheat values, but, nevertheless day after day the market continued to surpass all previous high price records for the season. The fresh upturns in the Chicago market were largely due to surprising strength at Liverpool and Winnipeg and to indications that exporters were buying United States wheat, as well as purchasing in Canada.

Weather favorable for the new crop tended to counter-balance in the corn market the influence of the wheat bulge. Meanwhile oats were largely governed by corn. Demand for provisions was keen, with hogs at the top-most prices yet this year.

THE WORST IS YET TO COME—

XENIA GUARANTORS SELL CHAUTAUQUA QUOTA OF TICKETS

Local Chautauqua guarantors met with success in the ticket sale for this season's program and the total ticket sale amounted to $1,793.

The guarantors must sell 700 tickets which amounts to $1,750, each year, in order to insure the financial success of the undertaking. The money raised over the quota will be divided between the Chautauqua and the guarantors for expenses. When the bills of the local backers are paid, the remaining money will be turned over to the Community Recreation Association.

The Chautauqua annually supplies everything for its engagement in the city with the exception of the grounds and is given the assurance of the sale of 700 tickets. Seventy-seven towns are covered by the Redpath Chautauqua circuit.

Seventy-five guarantors, including a number of new signatures have been signed for next year. The contract for the Chautauqua next year is the same as this year's and it is hoped that between 150 to 200 guarantors will be pledged for next year's program.

SERVICES HELD

Funeral services for Walter Samuel Gray, two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gray of Osborn, who died at the home of his parents, Thursday morning, were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the Osborn Presbyterian Church. Interment was made in Fairfield Cemetery.

Health Hints
by the
Father of Physical Culture

The valves of the heart are subject to much wear and tear in the circulation of the blood. As these are covered by the same membrane—the endocardium—that lines the cavities of the heart, they are especially subject, because of their position and function, to any inflammation affecting this membrane. It is somewhat similar to a pump valve which wears out before other parts of the pump and has to be replaced. In the case of man, however, there can be no replacement of the worn-out valve.

When an infective poison carried along in the blood-stream reaches the heart, and the membrane becomes diseased, the tissues are softened and disintegrated, and particles of the valve break off or are absorbed, or the valve adheres to the wall of the cavity or excrescences form on the margins of the valve, or the heart cavity dilates, any of which prevents the closing of the valve at the proper time and allows blood to pass backward when it should be going forward, or prevents its onward flow.

A certain amount of blood must pass through the heart and be sent to the tissues of the body at every beat, but if one of the valves, most commonly that on the left side of the heart, allows some of the blood to pass backward or prevents its going forward, there is a disturbance of circulation, and until the equilibrium is reestablished the patient will suffer from the group of symptoms common to heart disease.

In other words, an organic change has taken place in the heart, and we have the condition known as—organic heart disease, valvular disease of the heart, valvular regurgitation, insufficiency, incompetency, stenosis, valvular leakage, etc. And since the physician can hear the "swish" of the blood as it regurgitates, it is said that the patient has a "murmur" in his heart.

The valve can never be restored to normal, but what does happen is that the muscular walls of the heart become stronger and thicker, so that the same amount of blood is pumped as before. As long as this condition lasts we say that there is compensation, and if this is maintained by the patient taking care of himself he will get along.

MERCHANTS IN HITTING FEST DEFEAT RED SOX

The Xenia Merchants engaged in a batting orgy and succeeded in annexing their seventh straight game Sunday afternoon at Dickerson Park when they defeated the Richmond Red Sox of Indiana by a 11 to 5 score. The game was fast and exciting.

The first inning saw the demise of Lewis, star local twirler, who was touched for five scores and forced to leave the box. Jones, his successor, hurled airtight ball the remainder of the game.

The Merchants touched the slants of Franklin, visiting pitcher, for two tallies in the first inning. From then on until the fifth inning, not a run crossed the platter. In the fifth, Jones allowed the Sox their only other run of the game, while the locals were piling up five runs, knocking Franklin out of the box. He was replaced by Smith. The sixth was a whitewash for both teams, but in the seventh the worm turned and the Merchants, by obtaining three runs, forged into the lead for the first time. In the eighth, the locals secured their final run of the game.

The Merchants displayed good form and hitting ability. Shoecraft, at first base, played a bang-up game for Xenia, getting two home runs during the pastime. Anderson of the locals was not far behind with one circuit clout.

Jones, who succeeded Lewis on the mound after the initial inning defeat, deserves much credit for his relief pitching.

A large number of fans turned out for the game.

Next Sunday the Merchants will play the Traxlers nine of Dayton. This team has won thirteen straight contests and should give the locals a close game.

The lineup: Richmond: R. Kelly, cf; Dickerson, lf; Milton, ss; B. Gee, 1b; E. Knox, 2b; R. Landen, c; Cooper, 3b; Harris, rf; Franklin, p. Xenia: D. Porter, cf; Cunningham, lf; Anderson, ss; Shoecraft, 1b; A. Jones, 2b; Ewing, c; Long, 3b; P. Jones, p.

The score: Xenia—20005031x—11 Richmond—500010000—6

Batteries: Xenia—Lewis, P. Jones and Ewing; Richmond—Franklin, Smith and R. Landen. Umpire, Lindsey. Scorer, Harris.

HERMAN WILL MEET BLOCKIE RICHARDS SOON

Dayton, Ohio, July 28.—Tommy Herman, local kayo king and Blockie Richards, former featherweight ring idol of Dayton and its vicinity have been matched by the North Dayton Amusement Company for a twelve round decision contest at North Side Park Monday night August 4.

The match has been in the making for several weeks and Max Yinger had a hard time in getting these two mitt slingers together. Herman was will but Richards was the one who backed out stating that Herman was a bit too heavy for him but these difficulties have been ironed out and Richards claims he will be in tip top shape and will give Herman a pasting. Blockie has been out of the ring for several months but has been training all the time. He is anxious to re-establish his former prestige by handing the fast going Wop a setback.

Herman, as everyone knows has been advancing rapidly. He kayoed Young Webb in jig time and put up a whale of a battle against K. O. Mars of Cincinnati and Mel Coogan both to whom he lost decisions. Herman thinks that he can stop Richards and it is a safe bet that when these two clash the fur is bound to fly as both are hard hitters, and a real slugging set to can be looked for. The rest of the card will be rounded out in a few days.

UNITED STATES IS WINNER OF OLYMPICS

Paris, July 28.—It was officially announced that the Americans in the Olympic games made 94 points, as against 64 for France, her nearest rival. Sweden's total was 44½ points. Great Britain got 41½ and Finland 34. The United States carried off eight championships, including virtually all the major crowns—track and field, rowing, swimming, tennis, boxing, catch-as-catch-can wrestling, target shooting and rugby. Norway was the nearest rival to the United States as regards championships, having the unusual record of scoring in five events, but taking first place in only three of these, namely, winter sports, hunting marksmanship and yachting. Twenty-six nations figured in the team scoring, which included 20 Olympic championships, competition in which started last January with the winter sports and ended with the cycling and equestrian events.

RESERVES DEFEAT SILENTS IN SLUG FEST 16 TO 2 HERE SUNDAY

By L. J. Wones

The Xenia Reserves defeated the Dayton Silents at Washington park Sunday afternoon by 16 to 2 score in a slow, uninteresting game that dragged woefully at times.

The mutes were completely outclassed by the locals and at no time were they even in the running. The Reserves scored in every inning. The hurling of Cyphers was one of the bright spots of the game. This lad let the visitors down with three scant hits and fanned sixteen while he issued three passes. He was given fair support by his mates who made three wobbles, none of them being costly behind him.

McBlane was the pitcher for the mute outfit. His offerings were slammed to all corners of the lot by the locals who made eighteen hits of his delivery. Out of the eighteen hits twelve were for extra bases. The Silents made six errors in the green and pulled several bad plays of judgement.

The locals scored first in the round after E. Leachey led off with a double. Cain bunted to McBlane who tried to get Leachey going to third but failed in his attempt. Cain and Leachey worked the double steal in fine shape. Cain started for second and Hatfield sezzed through while Leachey made home and Cain was safe at second. Cooper was out kubbanded, unassisted while Cain took third on the infield out from where he scored on Hatfield's passed ball. Randall was walked but was caught stealing second. D. Fuller walked but Schwab fouled out to Hatfield for the last out.

The locals added four more in the second. Cox doubled to left but was tripled. P. Fuller doubled and Cyphers on trying to stretch his hit into a walk. E. Leachey tripled scoring P. Fuller and Cyphers. Cain got hold of one of McBlane's fast ones and knocked it out of the lot the blow scoring Leachey and himself. Corner grounded out but Randall doubled to center. D. Fuller walked for the second time. Schwab hit sharply to short but his ground ball hit retting the side. The locals made their seventh tally of the game in the third on a wild throw and two infield outs while in the fourth they added another pair of tallies on Cooper's safe hunt. Randall's bases continued to score in the fifth when they made, one and also the same number in the sixth and seventh frames. Schwab's single, Cyphers' triple Leachey's double, a sacrifice fly by P. Fuller and a muffed fly ball by Alex let the Chambliss nine score another quartet of runs in the eighth.

The entire Reserve team got one or more hits excepting D. Fuller. Leachey, Cain and Randall led with three each. Leachey and Randall getting two doubles while Cain got a single, double and a home run. Next Sunday the Reserves will play the Hamilton Triangles at Washington Park.

PRICE OF COFFEE STILL HINGES ON REVOLT IN BRAZIL

It is yet undecided whether coffee prices will increase according to wholesale grocers here.

The whole question appears to hinge, not only upon the length of the Brazilian government revolt but upon the course the Brazilian government may take when the uprising is over, they say.

The new coffee crop is ready for shipment but the government attempting to control the price has held up the crop that is now ready for the market, it is said.

The leading question at the present is whether the Brazilian government will permit the back shipments to come out following cessation of hostilities, or on the other hand, whether the shipments will be restricted to the usual amount.

It is possible however that the need for ready cash may induce the officials to send the delayed shipments on, wholesalers say. In such an event the shortage will be greatly reduced. At present, no shortage is being experienced, as the supply is equal to the demand, it is pointed out.

OPPORTUNITY SEEN IN TRACTION BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Park, Mass., July 28—Roger W. Babson's survey, public utilities made public recently has caused much interest among the holders of depressed traction issues. The statistician reaffirms his belief and defends his position in a more detailed statement, today.

"All tractions were supposed to be good a few years ago," says Mr. Babson. "Bankers and investors bought them readily because they were tractions, as all tax exempt issues have been gobbled up recently just because they are tax exempt. The automobile came in and the tractions began to lose passenger business. High operating costs during the war added to their difficulties and many of them went into receivership. The investing public promptly went sour on them and tractions became so unpopular as a class they were considered worthless. They are selling today at extremely low level and many good ones have suffered unduly as a result."

"Many tractions were financed and built during the traction boom that should never have been organized—that served no public necessity, but many others were sound and are still sound because they render a necessary public service. Fortunes will be lost and made on tractions during the next few years."

"In many of our cities congestion in automobile traffic is already a serious problem. This congestion will increase and the electric lines will become more necessary than ever. I know many business men who deserted the electric lines years ago to drive to work by motor who today are going back to the electric lines as the most convenient transportation offered in our congested cities. The city electric lines are a necessity and will prosper more and more as the congestion increases. "The problem of the suburban roads is different. Automobiles have come to stay and as long as highways will allow comfortable transportation the most people will ride in automobiles rather than in street cars. The fact, however, remains that the electric car line offers transportation at the lowest cost and the cars will always handle the mass transportation in large cities and between large centers. This passenger traffic must, however, be shared with the busses which will make it necessary for the electric lines to develop a freight business as well."

"The salvation of these properties lies in the opportunity to develop such a profitable freight business. I have recently studied several of the better suburban lines and find that they can carry freight cheaper than it can be transported in any other way. Nor will the development of electric freight hurt the steam roads. In fact, it will prove a blessing to them. The problem of handling steam freight is one of terminal facilities and a shipment that goes but fifty miles requires as much switching, terminal space, loading and unloading as one that goes a thousand miles. It costs the steam road almost as much to handle it, yet the tariffs on short hauls are small and do not cover this cost. Trolley freight offers better service to the shipper and this business can be handled at much less expense."

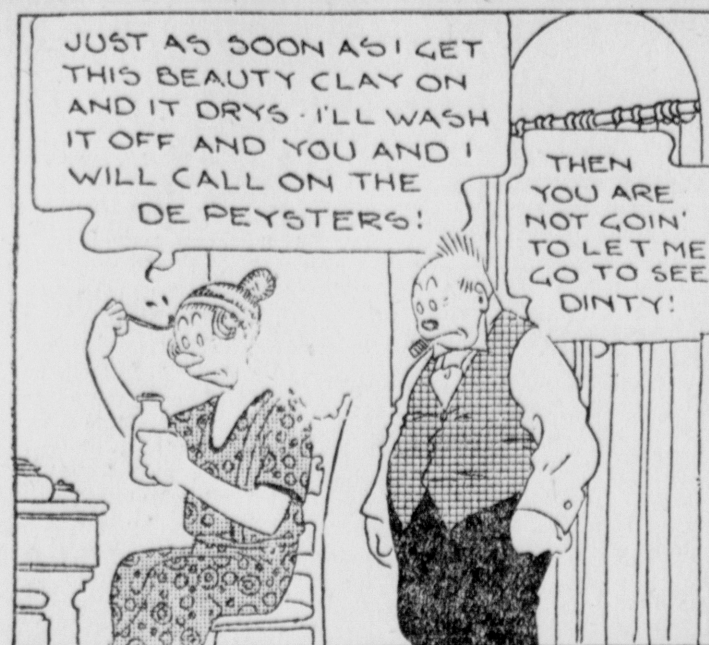

"How about the motor trucks?" Mr. Babson was asked.

"The motor truck has come into this field and has gone after business much more actively than the electric lines," he answered, "but the fact remains that the electric lines handle this business more economically than the truck. So far these two have been competing in the future they will have to cooperate to their mutual advantage. Instead of the trucker hauling a load for a hundred miles over the highways he will call for it, transfer to the electric line, then have his partner or correspondent take it out and deliver it at the other end. The money will be divided between these two and both will make more money than they are today and render better service to the shipper. It will require fewer trucks. It will employ the electric lines and pay dividends to those who have invested in them. Further it will take the trucks off our highways and relieve motor congestion. Hence every owner of a passenger car will work to have such freight hauled by the electric lines since the steam roads will not take it with any reasonable dispatch."

"The truckers are already aware of these facts. I have discussed the matter with one man, who has been a hauling business for twenty years. He is now operating over fifty trucks in half a dozen states. He has kept accurate cost records and he says that he is ready to turn over all his longer hauls to the electric lines. In fact, he has approached one or two of them in his territory to arrange a co-operation basis."

"All tractions, of course, are not situated so that they can take advantage of this new development. With business somewhat depressed—general activity as reflected on the Babson chart is now 11 per cent below normal—many of them will have to close up and junk their properties. I am firmly convinced, however, that others, suffering now with the group, will find a larger and more profitable field in electric freight."

SCHOOL BOOKS CALLING MAN AN "APE-LIKE MAMMAL" WOULD BE BARRED BY PREACHER

Sacramento, Cal., July 28—Texts on science in the California public schools which teach that man is a product of evolution—and "an ape-like mammal" must go, the Rev. George L. Troupe, of Cornish, Everside County, declared recently in a letter to Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Public Instructions.

Opposing the "ape-like" theory with a biblical quotation to the effect that man is the child of God, created after his own image, the clergyman asserted that the Hughes book on science, which he scored, will nurture a race of atheists and infidels unless it is promptly put under the ban.

"Shall our country and our civilization be destroyed by the teaching of evolution in the public schools?" asks Rev. Thorpe.

"No. Evolution must go, and Hughes' book on science must go."

The minister stated that he consulted with Governor Richardson relative to the teaching of evolution in the schools and that the Governor referred him to Superintendent Wood. The following statement was issued by Wood relative to the matter:

"There are various text books in science listed in the State Board of Education for use in the high schools of the State which present the doctrine of evolution, about which the Rev. Mr. Thorpe complains.

"For example, I have before me a book which declares that we must place man with the ape-like mammals because of numerous points of structural likeness. It also declares that there is a greater difference between the lowest type of monkey and the highest type of ape than between the highest type of ape and the lowest savage man."

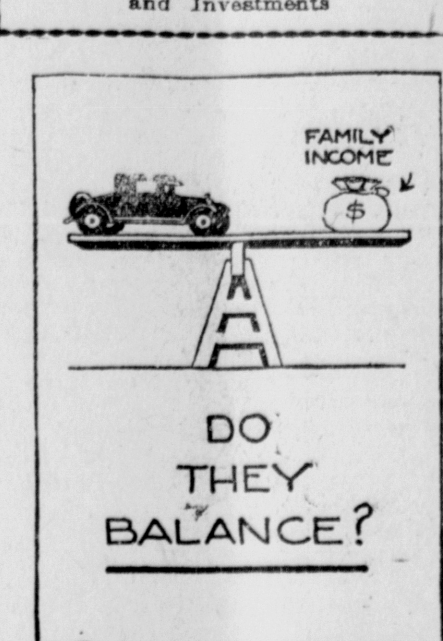

"I am referring the Rev. Thorpe's letter to the State Board of Education, which compiles the list of high school text books from which local boards make adoption. I am confident the board will give the Rev. Thorpe a hearing."

Robbers Take Safe.

Toledo, July 28.—Robbers broke into a restaurant conducted by Frank Tucker and carried away a 250-pound safe that contained $150 and valuable papers. The safe was later found in the outskirts of the city, where it had been rifled of its contents.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

Is the cost of your motoring proportionate to your income?

A financial survey of one of the midwest agricultural districts recently disclosed the fact that the cost of upkeep of motor driven vehicles plus the depreciation on them was $42,000,000. This amount is in excess of the total value of the crops in that district over the same period.

That means that the crops cannot pay the automobile bill—to say nothing of living costs! Is it any wonder that the people in that part of the country are having a hard time financially?

Every one admits that the automobile is one of the most powerful assets to human comfort and development. But it is not everything.

Before you buy a car figure out what you will have to give up when you have one. A car is worth a lot—granted. But it is worth all your money for cultural development, all your books and charity—and all your savings!

Unless you can run an automobile and save money, wait to buy your car.

Two Attacked While Asleep. Cincinnati, July 28.—Charles Berhalter, 61, was murdered and his son-in-law, George Mercer, 26, seriously wounded while they slept on the Ohio river bank after they had set their fishing lines. Berhalter was slugged over the head with an iron pipe that was found near his body. Mercer sustained a fractured skull, which hospital officials say may prove fatal. The police have no clew.

LOVE-OR FAME?

by VIOLET DARE

Author of "The Half-Time Wife"

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

DOROTHY LANE goes to New York to visit

PERSIS GRANT and try to break into movies. She meets

LAWRENCE FRENCH, a young publicity agent, and through him gets an engagement with

JOHN SEWARD, "the great lover of the screen." Seward falls in love with her and asks her to marry him, but she refuses. She quarrels with Lawrence, whom she loves, and accepts the attentions of EIKHORN, a big producer, until they become obnoxious. A reporter comes to see her late one night after she has abruptly left Eikhorn, to tell her that Eikhorn has been boasting of having been her escort, and that John Seward has beaten him in public. He asks why Seward should defend her, and she, touched by Seward's chivalry, replies that she is engaged to him. Frightened by the tangle she has got into, Dorothy decides to give up her career and go home, but early in the morning as she is on her way to the station she meets French, who persuades her to stay, and tells her that he has got an engagement for her with a friend of his who is making a picture in the country, and that she can leave town at once and he will straighten things out for her. She leaves at once, and that night reaches her destination and meets

CARL BANNING, her new director.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT.

XLI—"MARRY ME RIGHT AWAY"

"YOU'LL love this little old inn where you're to stay," Mr. Banning went on; I felt sure that he was just talking on and on so that I wouldn't feel that I had to

"It's one of the oldest buildings in this part of the country, and in the barn there's a queer old carriage that Lafayette rode in the last time he came to the States." The sun had gone down by that time, and the twilight was wonderful. There was a new moon, and the hay had just been cut in the fields past which we rode, so that the perfume in the air was wonderful. In spite of my fears a wonderful sense of peace came to me, and I felt more grateful than ever to Lawrence French for what he had done for me. I felt that I would have gone mad if I'd had to stay in New York and fight my troubles alone.

The inn was a darling place, and from my room, with its low ceiling and gable windows, I could see the famous falls. They were very high—higher than Niagara, the innkeeper said, though not so long, of course—and at first I found their roar very disturbing, but after a time it just soothed me.

The sheets on my square little wooden bed smelled of lavender, and by the old-fashioned dresser there was a patent rocking-chair—one of those big, old ones that are so comfortable. When I was a little girl my grandmother used to sit in one of those and rock me to sleep. Somehow, that memory made me feel even more at peace. I felt that I had gone into a new world, where the ghastly things that had happened in New York before I left had almost before I knew it his arms were around me; as he bent to kiss me I felt his heart beating against my own.

When Lawrence stepped back and looked at me there were tears in my eyes; I was so happy that I just couldn't keep from crying.

"Dodo, you knew it all along, didn't you—knew that I loved you, I mean," he said softly.

"Yes, I thought I did, but sometimes I felt pretty doubtful," I answered, snuggling my head down on his shoulder.

"I was on the verge of telling you that I loved you when you went off to Cape Cod with John Seward," Lawrence went on, holding me close to him again. "But I could see that he was mad about you, and I sort of thought that you cared for him. So I decided that the only thing to do was to wait and see how things turned out. He's a much richer man than I am, and much more prominent and attractive—"

"Oh, he is not more attractive!" I cut in. "You're the best-looking man I've ever seen."

He laughed at that, and kissed me again before he went on.

"Well, anyhow, I knew that you'd never marry a man you didn't love, so I just waited and hoped," he answered. "Now let's find a corner somewhere where we'll be quite alone, and decide when we'll be married. How about tomorrow?"

"Oh, not so soon! Why, I haven't any clothes, or—I just couldn't," I told him.

"I brought your trunk with me, so you have plenty of clothes," he replied.

"That does take care of my objection, doesn't it?" I agreed. "But I'd always wanted to be married at home—couldn't we wait a while for that?"

"We'll go there on our honeymoon," he answered. "Now tell me what time I can appear tomorrow with the minister."

It was impossible to think of any other reason why I shouldn't do as he wished. I knew that probably it was impractical, though, remembering Larry's salary—he got seventy-five dollars a week—and the fact that I earned a good deal when I worked, it seemed certain that we'd have money enough to live on.

Tomorrow—A Challenge to Fate.
